Amazon seasonal posts up for grabs

UP to 1,700 temporary jobs are up for grabs at Rugeley's new Amazon distribution centre as the company ramps up operations for Christmas.

The online retailer opened its 700,000 sq ft new centre at Towers Business Park, Rugeley, last month.

Hundreds of extra temporary roles are now on offer to cope with the Christmas rush and many may become permanent.

The news comes as Amazon shocked investors by revealing its third quarter net income plunged 73 per cent, to just £39m – despite growing sales – after it increased spending on new products such as the Kindle Fire tablet.

Shares fell 14 per cent overnight.

Amazon is also expanding its business, building 17 distribution centres worldwide – including the new centre at Rugeley which sorts online orders, packing products to distribute in the UK and Europe.

Handling

A total of 11 different categories of jobs are currently being recruited through the Amazon Jobs website, including operations managers, business analysts and fork-lift truck drivers.

Lucy Kilpatrick, account manager at personnel firm Randstad, which is handling the recruitment, said: "We are recruiting a maximum of 1,700 temporary workers."

Anyone interested in applying can call 0844 2578293.

News of the extra jobs was welcomed by Cannock Chase Council's finance boss Gordon Alcott.

"It will help put extra money in the pockets of hundreds of people in the run up to Christmas, which is fantastic," he said.

Easy ramble

CHASE and District Ramblers are off an easy 7.5-mile walk at Edgmond, near Newport, Shropshire, on Sunday. The meeting point is Hednesford bus station car park, in Victoria Street, for a 9am start

150 lose jobs as production shuts down after 20 years

SADNESS OVER DEMISE OF FIRM

cannockchron@expressandstar.co.uk

BOSSES of Burntwood firm Parry Bowen which has closed after 20 years believed they had enough reserves to keep the firm going through the uncertain economic climate.

In a poignant statement directors outlined the heartbreaking decision to shut down production at its Burntwood site last Friday (October 21) and make 150 employees redundant.

Parry Bowen, which was working on two Olympic Village contracts, blamed its demised on reduced margins and customers' reluctance to pay.

The company, based on Burntwood Industrial Park in Chasetown, expects to appoint Irwin & Co of Sutton Coldfield as administrators.

Parry Bowen had been working on two contracts at the athletes village for the London Olympics next year.

The statement read: "It is with great sadness and heavy hearts that the directors of Parry Bowen Limited announce that after 20 years the business has ceased trading with a view to going into administration.

"Two years ago the company had substantial cash reserves which the directors believed would see it through these difficult times.

"The dreadful state of the construction market over the last couple of years has unfortunately seen these reserves disappear, as reduced margins and customers' reluctance to pay have taken their toll.

"The directors hoped that a proposed reduction in staff would have been sufficient to see the business survive but recent industry forecasts suggesting that there will be no imminent improvement in the outlook for the construction industry made it clear that even this action would not have been enough."

Flagship

The directors referred to the firm's "focus on technical expertise" and its involvement in many prestigious projects, which was "testament to the skill and dedication of its workforce."

High profile contracts have included Arsenal's Emirates Stadium and the England rugby team's Twickenham Stadium. The firm had also worked on the Welsh Assembly building and flagship shopping centres such as Merry Hill in Dudley and White City in London.

The statement added that the company intended to sell its "state-of-the art" production facility.

"It has an excellent reputation and may be attractive to potential purchasers, a matter that will pursued by the directors in conjunction with the administrator in due course," it said.

Artists' work on show to public

AN art group from Great Wyrley is preparing for its annual show which displays the talents of artists in the village.

Great Wyrley Arts Club, which meets at the community centre in Landywood Lane, will be throwing open the doors to the public on Saturday (October 29).

The group started in the year 2000 with a small number of keen amateur artists, who are still the backbone of the group today.

Membership has grown to 28, which is the limit on membership due to the available space, and a waiting list has been on the go for the last few years due to its popularity.

Group spokesman Peter Dibble said: "Our members produce a large variety of excellent work in many mediums.

"We meet every Thursday at Great Wyrley Community Centre between 12.30pm and 2.30pm.

"The work produced is of a very high standard and will be available for people to view at our art fair on October 29 between 10am and 3.30pm.

Many of the works will be available for sale, but if there isn't anything that catches your eye personally, Christmas is only just round the corner."

Admission is free and refreshments will be available.

Donations in store for good causes

A SUPERMARKET in Cannock is urging charities and organisations to come forward for a financial boost.

Asda, in Lichfield Road, which opened in August, will be awarding donations from the Asda Foundation – the supermarket's charitable trust.

Store staff will review applications to decide which charities and projects will receive funding. Store manager Simon Wallbank said: "We're keen to help worthwhile causes in the local area and we want to hear from organisations and individuals who can demonstrate how they are helping locally and why they need our assistance."

To apply drop details, including the amount required and the reasons to be picked, into the store before November 14.

Coroner's action vow on festive hospital staff levels

SOUTH Staffordshire Coroner Andrew Haigh is demanding that staffing levels at Stafford Hospital are boosted over Christmas.

He said he was taking action following the death of an 80-year-old pneumonia patient last Christmas Day.

An inquest heard that Jean Birch's family had to make repeated requests before getting a meeting with Dr Jo Han Yeoh, who was in charge of her case, and had to ask several times for drugs to be given to the pensioner.

Mr Haigh said he would write to the hospital to make sure there were adequate staff levels on the wards before the coming festive period. Denise Crosby, Mrs Birch's 57-year-old daughter, told Cannock Coroners' Court: "On several occasions I had to ask for her antibiotics. I could never get hold of Dr Yeoh."

Mrs Birch, who was a resident at Coniston House, in Corporation Street, Stafford, was admitted to the hospital on December 4, suffering with pneumonia.

She had a history of heart disease and strokes, and was suffering with dementia. Dr Yeoh told the coroner that he diagnosed Mrs Birch was suffering with aspiration pneumonia on December 6. By December 13, Mrs Birch's infection seemed to have improved, but she was still having problems with her feeding.

Her health took a turn for the worse on Christmas Day when her family arrived to see her and she died at 2.15pm.

Recording a narrative verdict, Mr Haigh said: "There was a sudden deterioration in her health, which coincided with the family visit."

Mark Crosby, aged 58, Mrs Birch's son-in-law, said later: "I am happy he is writing to the hospital."

Sporting hub bid by father and son

A FATHER and son are trying to push ahead with plans to revitalise a burned-out former social club in Hednesford.

The former West Cannock Sports Club and Social Centre, in Bradbury Lane, was badly damaged by arsonists earlier this year.

David and Dennis Spencer, from Pye Green Youth and Community Services, are trying to get funding. to use the site as a sporting hub for youngsters.

Dennis Spencer said he was in negotiations with Sport England and Cannock Chase District Council to set-up sports and recreational facilities.

A plan was in place before the fire, which happened in June, and Mr Spencer said the blaze meant the plans have to be revised.

The 3.9-acre site has been unused for more than three years. The building was originally a social club for miners. The building is known as The Fives because of its association with the former No 5 Colliery.

David Spencer said the development was still very much in the pipeline. He said: "Funding is the main issue because the main building is no longer there,"

Workshop is a thriller

CANNOCK'S theatre is hosting a day-long Halloween workshop this weekend.

The Prince of Wales Centre, in Church Street, will be hosting the free event from 10am to 1pm on Saturday (October 29).

Workshop organisers say they decided to host the event after last year's show proved to be a success.

Centre manager Richard Kay said: "This years Halloween song of choice is Michael Jackson's Thriller.

"We will be lucky enough to have full use of the stage and special effects at the theatre for an extra special performance for the parents at the end of the session."

The workshop is open to children and teenagers aged between seven and 18 with fancy dress encouraged

Dam now 'as safe as possible' after £5.5m work

Flood defences are bolstered by repairs

COUNCIL bosses say the £5.5m repair work to Chasewater reservoir will be able to withstand a storm three times the strength of the devastating floods experienced in 2007.

The dam is now beginning to refill and bosses say they are expecting to see the reservoir levels back to normal by the summer of 2013.

Clive Thomson, Staffordshire County Council's head of specialist services has revealed that the dam has been strengthened to the extent that it could take the strength of a "one in 10,000 storm".

He said: "The dam is as safe as it is possible to make it and we will now be able to monitor its condition in far greater detail than was previously possible.

"Some water will always pass through an earth dam, but we are now able to keep a very close eye on how much and ensure this is not weakening the structure."

Although he says a fierce storm is rare, Mr Thomson says the work on the dam has made it safer than ever.

He said: "That is a very rare event but that's what dam safety is all about."

Drained

David Hughes, the county council's resident engineer at Chasewater, said a one in 10,000 storm would, based on probability data, be three times greater than the freak floods experienced in the UK during 2007.

The reservoir at the heart of Chasewater Country Park was drained early last year amid concerns for the safety of its earth dam which dates back to 1797.

The dam was leaking and putting nearby homes, around Lichfield and Shenstone, in danger. Major engineering work was started by Lichfield District Council, but proved a bigger challenge than anticipated and was taken over in May by Staffordshire County Council.

Water does seep through the dam, but this is said to be perfectly normal and acceptable as long as it is carefully monitored.

Pub toasts top award

Mill Farm assistant manager Alan Parton and licensee Sue Gibbons

STAFF at a Cannock pub are celebrating after winning three awards recognising their role in the community.

Employees at the Mill Farm carvery in Lichfield Road, won the Midlands section and also came second nationally for volunteer acts in the Heart of the Community Awards.

They have also been recognised nationally for their Royal Wedding celebrations. The Mill Farm has won £3,500 which will now be shared between the Midlands Air Ambulance, Cystic Fibrosis, and Cancer Research charities.

Licensee Sue Gibbons, who has worked at the pub for 23 years and has been manager for the last three years, said: "These awards are recognition of working with the community.

"It's not just about raising money - for example I went to hospital with a guest who was taken ill. Another example is taking food to a regular customer who was not well."

Fastest ale served up at festivals

THE FASTEST-brewed ale in the world is just one of four special casks available at a festival at two local pubs.

Project Green takes just 100 hours to get from the field to filling your glass and the popular ale will be available throughout November at The Star Hotel, Burntwood and The Bowling Green, Lichfield.

The Ember Inns pubs are taking part in NovEmber, the company's annual ale festival which will also include ale created by award-winning band Elbow, an all-female collaboration of brewers and an eco-friendly brew.

Star hotel manager Neil Maturi said: "At the Star we are champions of cask ale and are always keen to show our support for the British cask ale industry."

Project Green received a phenomenal reception from locals when it first became available last year, and its return is sure to provide a boost to the festival.

Elbow's golden ale Build A Rocket Boys, named after their latest album, eco-friendly brewery Purity's zesty Pure Gold and the female brewed Venus Black complete the festivals line-up.

Great Wyrley singer Holly Evans, aged 17

Holly steps out for chance of stardom

A GREAT Wyrley singer hopes to wow the judges in the regional final of a talent competition.

Open Mic UK is the biggest music competition in the UK for singers to showcase their talent.

The competition is looking for singers, rappers and vocalists of all genres. And Holly Evans, aged 17, thinks she's got what it takes to win.

The former Great Wyrley Performing Arts High School pupil has made it through to the regional finals and is hoping to win a place in the national final when she performs live at the NEC tomorrow night (Friday).

Holly will be performing live alongside the best talent in the area in front of hundreds of audience members and a professional judging panel.

If successful, Holly will sing live at the O2 Arena in London with the chance of winning the grand prize – a recording contract with a £30,000 investment.

Chris Grayston, head of Future Music, said: Thousands of hopefuls entered nationally and a very high standard has already been set.

"We are searching for an act whose live performance will impress an audience and industry judges and who has the potential to become a professional recording artist."

Holly, who made it through to the Boot Camp stage of the latest series of X-Factor, will be competing in the 17-22 age category.

Plea over youth club

THE new chairman of a village youth group hopes to increase the number of people using its facilities.

KONCAS (Kids of Norton Canes Activity Scheme) offers youth activities from its base at Jerome Road, Norton Canes.

KONCAS covers 11 to 17-year-olds and runs on a Monday evening from 7pm to 9pm. Junior KONCAS is for the seven to 11 age group and runs on Tuesdays from 4.30pm to 5.45pm.

Facilities include a five-a-side pitch, pool, table tennis, gym equipment, games consoles and an art corner.

Winnings go back to shop

THE latest winner of Hednesford's lottery scheme handed back their winnings to support the local economy.

The October winner of Hednesford's Shop Local Lottery gave back their £250 to Julie Locket, owner of The Little Lingerie Shop, in Cardigan Place.

Julie, aged 45, sold the winning ticket and the generous winner, who lives in the town but wants to remain anonymous, decided to give the money back to support the shop, which opened in July this year.

The grateful shop owner said: "I was thrilled when I heard I had sold the winning ticket." She added the winner insisted she take the winnings to "purchase more stock".

The future of the lottery still hangs in the balance after Councillor Linda Whitehouse announced earlier this month that it may be scrapped for good, putting future community events in jeopardy.

Hednesford's Shop Local Lottery scheme was halted for a month in May due to poor ticket sales, but the scheme was resurrected and back up and running in June. However, the ex-vice-chairman of Hednesford Traders' Association, Mrs Whitehouse, revealed it may be brought to a close.

Cashpot

She said the draw on Saturday, October 1, could have been the last as the Lotto was in jeopardy because the traders' association was currently in limbo.

This means less money being ploughed into a community cashpot. The organisation was scrapped in the summer after arguments broke out about how the group was being run.

Mrs Whitehouse said it was disbanded when it was discovered that it did not have a legal constitution.

She is also said to have organised an annual meeting without giving 21 days' notice – a legal requirement – which angered some town businessmen and women.

Traders agreed at a recent meeting to form an association from scratch. However, nobody has stepped forward to fill the unpaid positions of chairman, vice-chairman, secretary and treasurer.

Friendly donation may prove to be a life-saver

FRIENDLY foresters have dipped into their pockets to donate £200 to local life-savers.

The Norton Canes branch of the Foresters Friendly Society made the donation to their local Community First Responders (CFR) scheme.

Members of the recently established CFR scheme, which covers Norton Canes, Burntwood and Brownhills, were presented with the donation on October 20.

Sam Westley, co-ordinator for Norton Canes, Burntwood and Brownhills CFR, said: "We are over the moon with this generous donation.

"CFR schemes are entirely self-funded, so to receive donations such as this really does help to save lives by enabling us to continue to respond in the local community."

CFRs are volunteers trained by West Midlands Ambulance Service to respond to life threatening emergencies, and can quickly reach those suffering from medical emergencies in rural communities.

The money will be put towards running costs such as equipment, oxygen masks and bandages, as well as running the newly purchased response car.

Chris Cartlidge, secretary of the Foresters Friendly Society Pride of Norton, said: "We are very pleased to be able to support the Norton Canes Community First Responders."

To find out more about fundraising for your local CFR group or about becoming a CFR within the group, please contact the group co-ordinator Sam Westley via nbdcfr@gmail.com

Council looks at officers' pay cap

A DECISION about introducing a £100,000-a-year pay cap for senior council officers will be made next week.

The move is part of a salary review ordered by Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson.

The authority's chief executive Stephen Brown is currently the only senior officer on the payroll to earn more than £100,000, with a basic salary of £113,473.

Another option is a flat-rate cut in salaries of between five and 10 per cent.

Councillors have requested a report detailing pay levels for senior staff over the past 10 years and a comparison pay table with councils across Staffordshire and the West Midlands.

The savings, if a 10 per cent flat-rate cut was brought in, have been roughly estimated at £90,000. The authority is also looking at streamlining officers' roles. The committee will report with recommendations to the council on Monday (October 31).

MP to set up meeting over future of quarry

GAVIN Williamson MP is looking to set up a meeting to settle the future of a quarry site near Cannock after the owners scrapped plans to hold more motor-bike scrambling events there.

Residents living near Shoal Hill quarry at Huntington were angered when a bike meet was staged in the summer, claiming noise and dust was a nuisance.

Land owners Inglewood Investments have said the land will not be used for similar events in future. But they have not revealed any further plans and South Staffordshire MP Mr Williamson wants to set up a meeting to thrash out the future of the site.

Mr Williamson, who has already held a behind closed doors talks with Inglewood, says he hopes to arrange a more public affair, where local councillors and politicians can put forward their own ideas for Shoal Hill.

He said: "I am trying to get a meeting sorted between myself, Inglewood, and local councillors.

"I think the fact that they are not going to hold any more biking events is positive, but we need to come up with that will last much longer and find a sustainable solution."

Inglewood director Tom Follows has confirmed that the event, held by World of Riding Events in August, will not be repeated, but would not yet comment on what the future of Shoal Hill will be.

He said: "It is too early to say at the moment."

South Staffordshire councillor Jeff Ashley has also called for assurances about the future of Shoal Hill.

Action

Councillor Ashley said he was pleased to see the police had increased their presence at the site, after some scramblers were using the quarry unofficially, despite there being no official event for more than two months.

He said: "We're happy they have taken action and they apprehended four people and it seems to have quietened down a bit.

"I understand that they will no longer allow motor scrambling events, which we welcome and we will be trying to have a meeting to discuss the future."

Schools in road safety message

LIFE-SIZE puppets helped to get across the road safety message at a Cannock school. The initiative aims to cut the number of youngsters being injured on the county's roads.

Tyre makers Michelin have joined up with the county council to promote a road safety message to more than 2,800 children at 14 schools and colleges across Staffordshire during a four-week roadshow.

According to the council's own figures, 1,300 young people were injured on the county's roads between January 2010 and March 2011. The four-week roadshow, which uses puppetry, films, quizzes and role play, visited Norton Canes High School last week.

The project is funded by a grant secured by Michelin from the European Commission's Road Safety For Young People in Europe Project and builds on from a similar initiative launched last year.

This year the scheme will roll out to almost double the number of pupils compared to last year and all schools in Staffordshire will receive an internet-based road safety educational tool kit.

Corinne Li, from Michelin, said: "With our core business related to transport, road safety is a natural choice and we look forward to delivering this important message to young people. It will engage with the pupils in a positive and educational way."

Of the 1,300 youth casualties there were 17 fatalities and 73 serious injuries. There were 730 male and 570 female casualties.

The county council has a wide range of initiatives already operating aimed at cutting the number of youngsters injured on the county's roads.

In some cases, speed indication devices have been put up on the approaches to schools, and children in high-visibility jackets have patrolled roads around primary schools

Tots time at playgroup

L to r: Hannah Taylor, aged 18 months, volunteer Michelle Kinkson and Lauren Hinkson, two, at Tommy Tots, based at St Thomas More Primary

GREAT Wyrley youngsters are enjoying a new playgroup attached to their local school.

The Tommy Tots group, at St Thomas More Primary, Huthill Lane, is for children under four.

Headteacher Stephanie Hewitt said the idea was to get youngsters used to the school and its staff ahead of joining the nursery and reception classes. The group has places left for next September's intake. Mrs Hewitt said: "Most of the children in the group are under two and the idea is to bring youngsters, who will hopefully be the next generation of pupils at the school, to the grounds as early as possible."

The group meets at St Thomas More church hall on Mondays from 9.15 to 10.45am. The weekly cost is £1 per child. Call 01922 857075.

Signing initiative

AN initiative to encourage more employees to take up sign language as an extra skill is now available in Cannock.

National organisation Signs4Life is showcasing the local initiative to help staff to communicate and engage with their colleagues, service users and clients who may have hearing impairments.

Signs4Life also offer disability, autism and visual impairment awareness workshops.

Fozia Parveen, managing director of Signs4Life, said: "You never know when you will come into contact with a client, a colleague or member of the public who is autistic, deaf or visually impaired."

Seeking Santas in annual fun run

SANTAS are being sought in Cannock – to take part in a fundraising run through the town centre.

The second annual Santa Dash will take place this year on Saturday, December 17.

Proceeds from the one-mile run through Cannock Park and the town centre will go towards Newlife, which provides specialised equipment for local disabled children.

The Cannock-based charity organised last year's inaugural event which was started by Paralympic swimming champion Ellie Simmonds, from Walsall.

The charity is asking each participant to raise a minimum of £30 sponsorship each and will provide free Santa suits.

To sign up for the Santa Dash, contact Newlife on 0800 988 4640, email info@newlifecharity.co.uk or visit: www.newlifecharity.co.uk/events.

The Dash will start at 11am from Chase Leisure Centre. The run ends at South Staffordshire College for refreshments.

Dance day for charity

ZUMBA fanatics are being urged to shimmy down to Cheslyn Hay Leisure centre for a two-hour charity dance off.

The event, in aid of Macmillan Cancer Support, will take place at the centre, on Saredon Road, from 12pm until 2pm, on Sunday October 30.

Admission is £4 and £1 for spectators who can indulge in a host of stalls selling everything from refreshments to clothes.

The family event will be led by zumba teacher and personal trainer Rachel Park who hopes to raise at least £700 for the cause.

For more information contact Rachel on 07879 118582.

Remembrance parade details

BRIDGTOWN's annual Remembrance Parade will be on Sunday, November 6.

The assembly point will be at the junction of Park Street and Union Street to march to the Cenotaph in North Street, then on to the Betel Chapel for a service.

The Cannock branch of the Royal Engineers Association holds its next meeting on November 7 at the ex-servicemen's Club, in Walsall Road, Cannock from 8pm.

Councillor opens improved housing scheme

IMPROVEMENTS to a sheltered housing scheme have been opened by Chase council leader George Adamson 27 years since he first helped lay the foundations.

Grace Moore Court, Cecil Street, was first launched by the councillor in 1984 when he was chair of housing.

Now offering a new lift, hair dressing room and chiropody studios, there have also been much-needed renovations to the kitchens and communal bathrooms at the court which houses 21 flats. Councillor Adamson, who was joined by Grace Moore's longest-serving resident of 18 years, John Williams and the newest resident Sheila Jones, said: "Grace Moore Court is one of our most popular supported housing schemes and already has some wonderful facilities.

"At the same time we have also seen improvements to the gardens and landscaping. I can't imagine a better place for residents to be and it is a great honour to be invited back to a place where I laid the foundation stone."

Mrs Jones' two daughters Sheila Grainger and Carol Harvey said they were delighted with the scheme so far and the positive impact it had had on their mother, who moved in just four weeks.

Mrs Harvey said: "She has been so well looked after here and in a short time has gone from being a virtual recluse to having her own life back and making lots of new friends."

Military images scoop accolades for Alison

Alison won the Professional Operational Category with this shot

Alison's winning entry in the Professional Portrait category

DRAMATIC pictures of soldiers in Afghanistan have won prizes for a member of the Territorial Army.

Sergeant Alison Baskerville, aged 36 from Hednesford, scooped two accolades in the Army Photographic Competition.

The former Kingsmead High School pupil claimed first prize in the professional portrait and operational categories for images taken during a recent deployment to Afghanistan.

She only enlisted in the TA last year, joining as a Royal Logistic Corps Photographer in the Media Operations Group.

She said: "It was a complete surprise and I entered the competition at the last minute.

"It feels very humbling to know that some of my images were picked and I am very fortunate to have been in a position to create these images.

"I find it hard to be proud of my images as I don't take photographs for myself; I see the camera as a tool to capture a moment that can be displayed to other people. I am more proud of the fact that it will bring someone's family a way of connecting with what their sons and daughters are doing out in Afghanistan."

It was her desire to use her experience as a full-time photojournalist to document the work of the military out in Afghanistan that inspired Alison to join the TA.

Professional

The Army Photographic Competition has been running for more than 25 years. It is split into two main categories: professional, which is open to all Royal Logistic Corps and MoD civilian photographers and amateur, which is open to the rest of the Army, Territorial Army and University Officer Training Corps.

The professional and amateur competitions are sub-divided into various categories designed to depict the full range of military life: operational, non-operational, equipment, sport, portrait, video, multimedia and best portfolio and best overall image. This year's competition attracted 150 entrants, with a total of more than 650 pieces of work submitted.

Town traders work together in new group

BUSINESS heads in Hednesford are meeting tonight (Thursday) to formally set up a new trading group after the previous organisation folded in summer following a row over management.

At a meeting last month it was agreed that there was a need to rebuild the Hednesford Traders' Association from scratch. David Wisehall, an agency worker from Hednesford, set up the new group – Hednesford Town Community Association – with local businessman Simon Orme, after the Traders' Association was wound up following the dispute.

Linda Whitehouse, vice chairman of the former traders' group, says it was disbanded when it was discovered that it did not have a legal constitution.

Mrs Whitehouse organised an annual meeting without giving 21 days' notice – a legal requirement – which angered some town businessmen and women.

Now members of the former association and the new group have agreed to work together and will be agreeing a new constitution.

Simon Orme, who has applied to become the new Hednesford Traders Association chairman, says he hopes to see all of the positions filled by the end of the week.

Meeting

He said: "We all agreed to work as one and we will be meeting at the Lightworks on Thursday we will be looking to fill all of the other positions."

Mr Orme explained that there will still be two different groups — Find it in Hednesford and the Hednesford Town Community Association — but they will be working together "under the same umbrella".

Mrs Whitehouse has said that the new association will be "stronger and wiser", and the town's traders are "more passionate and positive than ever."

Mr Orme said he wants to see people step forward to fill the positions. He said: "We've knuckled down to get on with the work so we can all be working in the same direction."

Once the organisation is formed, the Association is likely to make a decision about whether to continue the local lottery scheme which has run in to trouble since it was set up more than 12 months ago, including a month where it had to be stopped entirely.

Police seek info on road collision

POLICE are appealing for witnesses to a crash in which a youngster was knocked off his bike.

The five-year-old boy had been cycling round Chasewater Lake with his family.

They were approaching a bend at the junction of Pool Road and Burntwood Bypass, in Chasetown, when the collision occurred.

The boy was at the front of his group when three men on off-road motorcycles came around the corner at speed. One crashed into the boy.

He fell off his bike but was not seriously injured and did not require hospital treatment.

The motorcyclists did not give their details and left, riding towards Norton Pool Way.

The rider in the crash was on a white Yamaha with no registration plates.

He was white, about 25, 5ft 7in tall with a large build and short, brown hair, and wearing grey jogging bottoms and white trainers.

One of his companions was on a red quad bike and the other was on a green Kawasaki off-road motorbike.

The crash took place on Saturday October 1. Anyone with information is asked to contact Pc Darren Wilkes at Staffordshire Police on 0300 123 44 55, quoting incident number 758.

New film role for Ben?

A CHILD film star from Cannock is thought to be filming a sequel to a hit 2009 British comedy, which is said to star former Doctor Who David Tennant.

Nine-year-old Ben Wilby is currently on a shoot filming scenes but has been sworn to secrecy about the project.

However it is believed to be the follow-up to Nativity!, which starred Martin Freeman.

Ben's mother, Jill Wilby, has confirmed Ben is busy filming "something" at an undisclosed location, but says she is sworn to secrecy.

Welsh actress Joanna Page, who played Stacey in the hit BBC Three comedy Gavin & Stacey, has spoken to Ben and Jill on his official Twitter page, @jill1ben, with the two actors saying they will see each other "soon".

Ben and Jill tweeted Joanna saying: "Brilliant, can't wait. I played little Bob in the first Nativity."

Story walks for children

YOUNGSTERS from across Hednesford will be lighting up the town for the lantern story walk.

The event, organised by The Friends of Hednesford Park, takes place on Monday October 31, from 4.30pm, at Market Square.

Pupils from years five and six at West Hill Primary School have also created their own legend to display on the walk along with other work which will be shown in large frames around the edge of the park.

Next month St Peter's C of E Primary School will take part in the November story walk with the Gruffalo. Hednesford Valley High will also feature after producing a story about their school called The Hednesford Horse. A Christmas treasure hunt will end the year's bill of events before local author Cindy Faulkner presents her story, Shaun and the Pirate, in the new year.

To book a place on the walk contact The Friends of Hednesford Park via e-mail at friendsofhednesfordpark@hotmail.co.uk or contact them on 07866 528508.

Concert success

A CONCERT at Great Wyrley Performing Arts High School has raised £758 for the Royal British Legion's Poppy Appeal. The concert on October 15 featured 17-year-old singer Rose Redd, bands Serendipity and Shindig and local young musicians.

Road ban for driver in crash after row

A MAN who crashed his car on a roundabout after falling out with his girlfriend has been banned from driving by Cannock's magistrates.

John McGowan had been at his girlfriend's house on August 28 when they rowed. He had been drinking but he decided to drive home, the court was told.

McGowan lost control and crashed in Hill Street, Heath Hayes, causing damage to a roundabout. He ran away from the scene, later returning to move his car to another street.

Police went to his address and found him crying on the sofa. A blood test showed 87 milligrammes of alcohol in 100 millilitres of blood. The legal limit is 80 milligrammes.

The 27-year-old, of Bourne Close, Heath Hayes, admitted a charge of drink driving and failing to stop after a road accident.

In mitigation, Mr Paul Jenkins said McGowan had apologised for the incident, saying he was shocked and distressed by what had happened.

Magistrates gave him a £350 fine for drink driving and banned him from driving for 12 months, giving him the option to do the drink drivers' rehabilitation course.

For failing to stop, he was fined £230, his licence was endorsed and he has to pay costs of £85 and a victim surcharge of £15.

Woman mugged

A WOMAN was mugged and pushed into a brook in Heath Hayes.

The 48-year-old was walking through woods off Hemlock Way at about 1.15pm on Tuesday, October 18, when two men approached her near the underpass.

The men threatened her and stole cash and jewellery. One of the men elbowed the woman causing her to fall into the brook. She was shaken but unhurt.

The offenders are described as white, in their late teens to early 20s, of medium build and 5 ft 10 ins.

Witnesses are asked to call 0300 123 44 55.

Artist honour

CHASE Terrace artist Carole Baker has had two of her paintings chosen for the 2012 Academy Calendar. It features a dozen fine art reproductions. It costs £27 and can be ordered through Carole on 01543 676895.

Hollywood greats among organist's decades of shows

Musician Steve Tovey on a Compton organ

Actor Cary Grant – 'such a gentleman'

Judy Garland – 'a bit jittery'

How Steve struck a chord with the stars

A CANNOCK musician who was the last full-time cinema organist in the country lists Hollywood greats Judy Garland and Cary Grant among those he has performed with during a glittering career.

Steve Tovey, of Hazel Slade, said he could see that Wizard Of Oz star Garland was a bit nervous as she sat next to him in the dark space under the stage at Birmingham's Odeon cinema.

As the roof above them opened, Steve started playing the first notes to Somewhere Over the Rainbow and the spotlights hit them as they both rose up onto the stage.

Steve used to play at the Odeon before a film and during the intervals, as well as for live shows.

The Compton organ, which used to rise up from below the stage and then slowly rotate while he played, was removed from the cinema in 1988.

"The stars used to love to be with me when I came up from under the stage – it was certainly a dramatic entrance," says Steve, aged 64.

"Judy Garland came across a bit jittery and you could tell she had a few problems, but that didn't stop the audience from going crazy when she sang.

"Having her sitting at the organ with me singing Somewhere Over the Rainbow is something I will never forget."

Cannock organist Steve Tovey, who has been playing at Wolverhampton's Civic Hall for a number of years

Radio

Steve, who is married to Ann and has four children, nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren, decided as a young boy to become an organist.

Growing up in Aston, Birmingham, alongside heavy metal vocalist Ozzy Osbourne, the first time Steve heard organ music was on the radio.

"I heard Reginald Dixon, who was resident organist at the Tower Ballroom, Blackpool, and decided I wanted to play like him," says Steve, who is now president of the Cannock Chase Organ Society.

"I went for lessons with Alan Walker in Birmingham and the first job I had as a teenager was playing the Wurlitzer organ in the Regent Cinema, in Dudley. My dream of following in Reginald Dixon's footsteps was coming true as he had been the first resident organist at the Regent."

Steve went on to work at the Birmingham Odeon and stayed there for 25 years playing with stars including Cary Grant and Cliff Richard.

"I was chuffed to be playing with Cary Grant as he came across as such a gentleman – I was able to shake his hand and say it was nice to meet him," says Steve.

"When we came up from under the stage together I had to play There's No Business Like Showbusiness for him. These were the days that the Odeon was the leading stage venue for the Midlands."

Steve also used to play for the Saturday morning kids' film club at the cinema. "As I was rotating gracefully on the stage, kids would be trying to hit me on the back of the head with Maltesers," he says.

Nude

"However, at Christmas I would come up out of the stage dressed as Santa – no one dared flick sweets at Father Christmas in case they didn't get any presents from him."

Steve says he often dressed as a character from the films when he played the organ. For James Bond's Moonraker he wore a space suit, while he has also dressed up as Spiderman, and the Mad Hatter for Alice in Wonderland.

"When the Monty Python show came to the Odeon I was naked – as the Monty Python TV programme had a nude piano player." Steve played on the bingo circuit for a while before becoming Wolverhampton's city organist 18 years ago, where he plays at several events including the Mayor's lunches.

At the Civic Hall he plays a Mighty Compton organ which has 6,421 pipes and weighs 31 tonnes. It cost £6,000 in 1938 and now the replacement value of it is over £1m.

The organ is looked after by the Cannock Chase Organ Society and Steve has also installed the 1,000-pipe Compton organ at Bilston Town Hall, where he plays for dances and concerts.

"I usually get around 250 people coming along for the afternoon dances at the Civic Hall and Bilston Town Hall," he says. "It is wonderful that even 50 years after I started playing people are still enjoying the music."

Playing fields to get slice of cash

SPORTS fields in Burntwood and Shenstone are being given a share of £277,700 from an Olympics legacy fund.

Burntwood Rugby Club will receive £50,000, with £35,000 going to Shenstone playing fields.

The money is from Sport England's Protecting Playing Fields fund. It is inviting communities to bid for support for a local playing field through the second £2m round of the fund.

In round one, more than £2m of National Lottery funding has been offered to sports clubs and local groups to bring disused playing fields back into use, improve existing sites or create new sports pitches.

The cash for the rugby club sports association will improve the playing surface on their pitches, meaning more sport for local residents.

In Shenstone, the existing football pitch and training pitch will be upgraded.

Louise Branch, of Shenstone Playing Fields Management Committee, said: "The clubs that use the fields can go from strength to strength and attract more people to play."

George Salter Collegiate Academy, West Bromwich, will also receive £50,000. It will help to develop an unused grass area into two junior rugby/football pitches and a summer cricket ground.

One Stop store raid

THREE masked men filled bins with cigarettes in a raid on a Hednesford shop.

The robbery took place at the One Stop store in Rose Hill at 10.40pm on October 11. Detectives are appealing for witnesses to call Dc Ian McDonack on 0300 123 44 55.

Two men threatened the staff while they filled green bins with cigarettes. The third man kept watch.

The female staff members were shaken but unharmed. Two of the men were of large build and wore balaclavas and dark clothing. The third also wore dark clothing and his face was covered. They drove off in a dark-coloured high-performance car.

Aid for charity

STAFF at the Spar shop in Hednesford Road, Heath Hayes are fundraising for the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children by dressing up for Halloween and holding a raffle from October 29 to 31.

Coroner to resume inquest into crash

A CORONER is to resume an inquest into a woman killed when her car was struck by an ambulance driven by a Burntwood paramedic.

Kevin Webster, of Selwyn Road,had faced charges over the death of Wendy Williams, aged 60, but was cleared by a jury earlier this year.

Now, following requests from Mrs Williams' family, South Staffordshire Coroner Andrew Haigh is to resume the hearing in a bid to find out more about the circumstances. Mr Haigh had opened the inquest soon after her death on December 23, 2009

Stafford Crown Court heard in July that Mr Webster, 33, was travelling at speeds of up to 75mph as he rushed to reach a five-year-old boy who had swallowed a coin. Wendy Williams' car was hit by his rapid response vehicle as she pulled out of a junction.

Mrs Williams, of Castle Bromwich, pulled out from a side junction into the path of the ambulance in Tamworth Road, Lichfield. Webster braked but his Vauxhall estate, which had its blue lights and siren activated, could not avoid her.

Last week, Mr Haigh heard from the Williams' family's solicitor Emma Brown. She said the inquest should be resumed because the trial did not fully address Mrs Williams' driving, the road layout, the training for first responder drivers and what information paramedics are given on their way to emergencies. Miss Brown said there were eight witnesses, but only two gave evidence in court.

Hazel Padmoore, representing Mr Webster, said the court case had been a lengthy proceeding, the jury heard from two witnesses and there was no legitimate reason to resume the inquest.

Duncan Astill, representing West Midlands Ambulance Service, said inquests are to establish how, when and where someone dies and they are "constrained by the requirements of the Coroner's Act."

Scope

The coroner said there was sufficient scope to resume the hearing and said he accepted that further evidence might be useful.

Mr Haigh added he had not had full sight of the police file and he would feel "uncomfortable" if he did not look in it further.

West Midlands Ambulance Service spokesman Murray MacGregor said: "It is quite proper for the coroner to decide whether to have an inquest and we respect his decision."

A date has not yet been set for the full inquest.

Mrs Williams' husband Terry said: "We're pleased the inquest will be resumed. We feel there were many questions left unanswered."

Blanket to mark birthday

A GIANT blanket has been knitted by members of a Cannock church to mark its 120th anniversary.

The 120 squares have been stitched to show a giant cross which will be displayed in St Chad's Church in Cannock Road, Chadsmoor, during the year of celebrations.

Parish warden Sue Searle said parishioners were invited to join in the knitting.

Events

The completed blanket will eventually be sold off to raise funds for the church.

St Chad's was opened in October 1892 and over the next 12 months all kinds of events are being planned.

The church has also recently celebrated the arrival of a new vicar.

The Rev Jane Nash has come to the parish from Bedford to succeed the Rev Kathryn Buck.

With the cross of St Chads in the church Tina Heafield, the newly apointed Revd Jane Nash, Muriel Ball and Irene Barber

Firms help make to kitchen refit snappy

TWO local businesses have helped to refurbish the kitchen at a Cannock charity for children with special needs.

Lovell Partnerships, which carries out bathroom conversions for Cannock Chase District Council, has completed the work to modernise the kitchen for Special Needs Adventure Playground (SNAP) in Pye Green Road.

The Apollo 2000 store at Cannock's Orbital Retail Centre has also donated a new cooker.

SNAP manager Suzanne Newell said: "Lovell has done all the work including the plumbing and putting in new units. We are nearly nine years old and the premises were really showing the wear and tear. When they contacted us to offer help it was just what we needed." The work done by Lovell would have cost about £2,500.

A team of Cannock based NatWest workers have also given SNAP a helping hand with painting. Lakhwinder Thompson, from NatWest Cannock, who organised the volunteers, said: "My colleagues and I are very much aware of the great work SNAP does."

Samaritan stalwart picks up MBE

Amanda Poulson MBE

Amanda receives her honour from Princess Anne

A GOOD Samaritan from Cheslyn Hay has had her hard work recognised by the Queen.

Amanda Poulson was named in the Queen's Birthday Honours list, and picked up the honour in recognition of her contribution to the wider community from HRH The Princess Royal at Buckingham Palace.

Miss Poulson was nominated for the award by her colleagues at HM Revenue and Customs in Telford for her voluntary work with The Samaritans.

She said: "It was an honour to receive my MBE from HRH The Princess Royal, and a moment I will cherish for years to come.

"I feel privileged to be part of Samaritans, it is a big part of my life and I hope to continue my duties as a volunteer for many years." Miss Poulson has taken up a variety of roles in The Samaritans in the 23 years she has volunteered for the charity, where she has been involved in fundraising, acted as chairman of the management Committee, and is a training officer.

Passion

Miss Poulson has also acted as director of the Walsall and Shrewsbury branches, and been the regional representative for the West Midlands and North Wales, where she was responsible for 17 Samaritans branches.

Stephen Hoddell, Chair of Samaritans, said: "We're incredibly proud of Amanda's achievements, and the MBE is further recognition of the hard work, passion and commitment she has shown to helping people in need for over two decades."

A True Family Run Company Trading For 28 Years

Birmingham Museum and Art Gallery collections care officer and Staffordshire Hoard conservation manager Deborah Cane with some of the hoard items

When will councils stop wasting public money?

RE: Council drop £50 payment to tenants.

I cannot believe the council is willing to pay people for cleaning up after themselves, it should be in the terms of the housing contract.

Personally, tenants should be charged for any cleaning and rubbish removal, not rewarded for cleaning up after themselves.

Where is it going to stop? When are people going to realise it's their responsibility to follow these contracts. There are moral reasons for leaving vacated premises in good order and not to leave the public to pay up each time they do not.

I also read the council was thinking of bringing back weekly bin collections – wow! All of a sudden we have a basic right to have this service. I'd like to know how much this reversal of service will cost us all. I wonder how much toing and froing the change to fortnightly costs in terms of economy and disruption.

The councils have changed these facilities so often one cannot keep up with all the dos and don'ts.

I remember the confusion when the change happened with all the recycling, what you could or couldn't put in what bin. I personally do not need a weekly collection as with two of us our waste is fairly minimal, but I can understand large families, maybe yes for them, but that's another problem. Now what about the binmen? What happens to them, will they get more pay, any more holidays or consideration?

I have to say they are worth more than of all of this, our binmen are brilliant, so quick, efficient and polite and helpful and you can't pay too much for that can you?

So could you tell me when the councils are going to stop wasting all this public money? These are lean times for all, maybe it will help people not to throw so much away and perhaps the councils will have to think yet again!

Not impressed by hoard move

I WAS not impressed to read that many items of the Staffordshire Hoard are being loaned to the Americans.

I was one of the thousands of people who contributed to the eventual purchase of the hoard. I queued to see the items for more than three hours.

Of course I was impressed, but we were told that the other items were being restored.

None of the items photographed in your recent article were open to my view. Now I see that the Americans are going to have a large quantity of the most prized pieces. How can that be justified?

How is it that Birmingham has got its fingers on those prized pieces anyway?

I only hope that there will be a very large entrance fee and that 95 per cent comes back to Staffordshire. . . or is that just too much to hope for?

Maybe 'Helen' could direct her passion for opinions elsewhere

A FEW weeks ago when I received my Chronicle I had already decided that should another letter have appeared from 'Helen of Hednesford' then I was of the mind to myself write to the paper and express my complete boredom of her one person crusade to educate the local population of Government and council matters.

On this occasion I was amused to note another reader had already written to complain of their boredom. I am 42-years-old, have lived in Hednesford all my life and come from a Labour voting family and will always be a Labour supporter.

The problem with the constant letters from 'Helen' is that she is constantly writing about matters that we already know about and have done for some time. It is old news. Yes we get the point – that she is against the Tories and is not in favour of our elected MP. Whoopee, join the club!

Instead of writing the same repetitive letters and boring us readers over and over again with topics we already know about – and to be honest her letters are always negative – why, if she is so anti- everything does she not hold a meeting or a rally? At least that way people have a choice of whether they want to hear the same old gripes over and over.

'Helen' also stated in her last letter that she cares for Hednesford and this is why she bothers and it is a pity others don't do the same.

I would like to say to 'Helen' – and this is from the heart – that by saying this you will have offended my residents, both new and old.

Many people have views and concerns but express them by talking to the correct persons or uniting in petitions, letters etc. Your constant letter writing is not bringing anything new to the table and certainly will not change anything . . . it is topics we already know of and to be fair your opinions appear to be fuelled by personal spite rather than genuine concern for Hednesford.

All this constant negativity when life is tough enough is as depressing as watching a double bill of EastEnders. Enough is enough.

Maybe 'Helen's' passion for her opinions to be known could be directed elsewhere . . .please.

Off-roader in sponsor plea for challenge

AN off-road enthusiast is appealing for sponsors as he prepares to embark on a gruelling four-wheel drive in aid of a cancer charity.

Andy Guest, of Heath Hayes, is taking part in the Mac 4x4 UK Challenge to raise money for Macmillan Cancer Support.

The 32-year-old will be joining 39-year-old Burton man Andrew Fleming and other members of the Staffs 4x4 Club driving a Land Rover Defender over tough terrain. The event will see 70 teams criss-crossing the countryside in a test of navigational skills, driving ability and endurance.

The men are asking people to contribute to their bid to raise £1,200 via their online Just Giving page, but are also seeking businesses sponsorship.

Mr Fleming said he had seen at first hand the work done by Macmillan nurses. He said: "My two granddads both passed away due to cancer and Macmillan were really great."

The event will begin in the Shropshire town of Craven Arms on March 2. The teams will drive through the night on Friday and Saturday, with only limited breaks.

To sponsor the off-roaders call 7717 218413. Donations can be at www.justgiving.com/team staffs4x4

Residents' anger at play area nuisance

ANGRY residents have bombarded council bosses with complaints after a play area was built near their homes in Heath Hayes without full planning permission.

The playground has become a hub of anti-social behaviour with 24 incidents reported since May.

Cannock Chase District Council acknowledges there is a problem with children scrawling graffiti, throwing stones and making a noise but say removal of the equipment would have a negative impact on the community.

Peregrine Way overlooks the park

Residents want a return to open space.

The criticisms concern the public open space between Pheasant Way and Peregrine Way on the Park Farm Estate.

Retrospective permission is being sought for the games area which has been built after the Persimmon Homes scheme was approved in principle by the council some months ago. Residents say the playground generates noise, litter and loutish behaviour and they claim the facility has lowered the value of their homes. They described the play equipment as "an eyesore."

They also allege that young children are left unsupervised and have been spotted running into adjacent roads and damaging property by kicking balls into neighbouring garden fences and cars.

A petition signed by 33 residents has been handed to Cannock Council demanding that the games area be removed and for the rest of the park to be completed as soon as possible to prevent further vandalism.

However, in a report to the authority's planning committee, which was meeting yesterday (Wednesday) to discuss the application, Staffordshire Police's architectural liaison officer says the issue would be exacerbated if the equipment was taken away.

He also recognised that abuse of the facility could seriously erode the quality of residents' lives.

"Evaluation of the needs of the community should have been addressed prior to the implementation of this games area," he said.

Officers were recommending approval of the full application.

Charlie says thanks for all the memories

Charlie Blakemore acknowledges the crowd at the end of his last game in charge

ALL good things come to an end – and for Charlie Blakemore that time is now.

After eight years as Chasetown boss he stepped down following the 1-0 home defeat by Stafford Rangers. It marked the end of the most successful era in the club's history.

Their love affair with the FA Cup made national headlines and, while Blakemore would hardly admit it, he has been the catalyst behind the Scholars' remarkable rise to national, and local, treasures.

A 10th-placed finish in the Evo-Stik Northern Premier Division last season was the highest in their history – capping a rise from when Blakemore returned as player-coach with Michael Rowe in 2003 with the Scholars in the Midland Alliance.

But now work commitments – Blakemore is an MD at aerospace company BAE Systems – have forced him to move upstairs to the Scholars Ground boardroom. He told his players of his decision after a 3-1 defeat by Stocksbridge Park Steels and admitted letting go was harder than he thought.

"I was choked up," he said, "and so were a few of the lads. I didn't expect it. There's a special bond because of the time we've spent together. They know I love Chasetown and they love Chasetown.

"I've ploughed a lot of my life into it and I loved every minute. But it needs a fresh face now. You don't want to let it go but you know you can't afford the time to keep the good times rolling.

"I set myself high standards of discipline and it's been more difficult this season by not being there."

Blakemore is now looking to devote more time to daughters Lily, seven, Emily, 13, and wife Charlotte. He freely admits he needs a break and is relishing his new-found free time. "I need a rest and time with the family," said Blakemore, who first signed for Chasetown as a 16-year-old in 1983. "They've been behind me all the way so it would be nice to spend more time with them.

"Emily and Lily have grown up with Chasetown, it's been an incredible journey. I've got mixed emotions because I've loved it and my family have loved it but it's the right decision.

"As a manager you have to be there all the time and it's a hell of commitment. People don't realise how much you have to put in. I've worked my socks off, but there comes a time where you must stop."

Blakemore's reign began with a low-key 1-1 draw at Alvechurch in the Midland Alliance in February 2004 when he succeeded Rowe.

A run to the FA Cup third round in 2008 – and a 3-1 home defeat by Cardiff – made them the lowest-ranked club to reach that stage of the competition.

Folklore

And last term Blakemore guided Chasetown to the FA Trophy quarter-final – three games from Wembley – where they were knocked out 3-1 by Mansfield.

But it was October 22, 2005, when the Scholars officially 'made it'.

A 2-2 draw at Blyth Spartans in the FA Cup fourth qualifying round put the Scholars on collision course with Oldham and FA Cup folklore. The rest is history – even if a planned night out in Newcastle left the team a little worse for wear 48 hours before the replay.

"That was the turning point for the club," said Blakemore. "We went away to Blyth Spartans in the fourth qualifying round, the furthest we'd ever got. They were two leagues higher than us but we drew 2-2 and I thought that was it, our chance was gone.

"In the clubhouse after, they did the draw and it was Oldham at home. Half an hour later we got a call from the BBC saying the winner would be live on Match of the Day in the next round.

"The lads had a night out in Newcastle because we'd promised them but little did we know we had a replay on the Tuesday. It was worth about £200,000 to the club and there we were stuck in Newcastle and I've got all the boys out on the lash!

"We had a great night but travelling back on the bus the next day they all looked absolutely dead.

"We played and the ground was rammed, people were in the trees and hanging off the fences to watch because if we won we hit the jackpot. We won 1-0 in the last minute. You couldn't have written a better script."

In typical enthusiastic style, Blakemore sums up his time: "We've lived the dream for eight years and I've loved it."

Charlie Blakemore has helped put Chasetown on the football map

Charlie Blakemore salutes the Scholars' fans, left, and leads the team out for his final game in charge alongside daughters Emily, aged 13 and Lily, seven

FOR THE RECORD: P448 W245 D85 L118.

Honours: Walsall Senior Cup 2005, Midland Alliance runners-up 2005, Midland Alliance Champions 2006, Northern League Division One runners-up and play-off winners 2010.
Best player – Chris Slater. "My Rolls Royce, a great player. I went with him to Port Vale for his medical when he signed for them and left with a tear in my eye."
Best signing – Lee Bullimore. "I played with Lee and he came to Chasetown when I first was a manager. He went on to play about 200 games and scored a load of goals. He'd run through a brick wall for me."
Top three games – 1. Blyth Spartans 2-2 Chasetown, FA Cup fourth round qualifying, October 22, 2005: "Prior to that our average gate was about 70 and we got 2,000 for the replay. It catapulted the club into a new arena." 2. Chasetown 1-1 Oldham, FA Cup first round, November 6, 2005: "It was live on Match of the Day and we had unbelievable media attention. It changed the club forever." 3. Chasetown 1-0 Port Vale, FA Cup second round, December 11, 2007: "We created history on that night. The FA Cup had been going for 136 years and we became the lowest-ranked side to reach the third round."

Food show serves up treat for its 21st birthday

THE BBC Good Food Show Winter is 21 this year and to celebrate we have teamed up with the organisers to offer 10 readers the chance to win a pair of tickets.

The BBC Good Food Show is at Birmingham's NEC from Wednesday, November 23 to Sunday, November 27 and as the biggest and best food show in the country it has been paving the way for food shows for the past 21 years.

This year the line-up is just as stellar as always with top foodie faces including John Torode, Gregg Wallace, James Martin, Rick Stein, Glynn Purnell and many more taking to the 2,000-seater Supertheatre.

There will be hundreds of exhibitors from Flavours of Spain to British Fine Foods and Luponde tea plus come and see some exhibitors who have been with the show from the very beginning including Foxes Spices and The Curry Sauce Company.

With Christmas just around the corner it will be the perfect place to pick up inspiration to make your Christmas stand out from the crowds this year and try something different.

John Torode and Gregg Wallace, presenters of MasterChef, will be in the show Supertheatre

For more information about the show, visit www.thenec.co.uk.

Spook-tacular fun at wildlife trust base

STAFFORDSHIRE Wildlife Trust is inviting families to discover the spooky side of its Wolseley Centre headquarters, near Rugeley.

The charity is staging a Spooktacular on Saturday and Sunday, October 29 and 30, when families can meet the Staffordshire Bat Group and discover the world of the nocturnal mammals between the hours of midday and 3pm.

Crafts such as making creepy puppets will also be taking place .

Trail

Event organiser Sam Pachner said: "We are very much looking forward to the visit from the Staffordshire Bat Group."

Throughout the half-term week, as well as during the Spooktacular, visitors can take part in a trail in search of nine spooky characters. It costs £1 and on completion participants will receive a Halloween themed prize.

Discount scheme will benefit charity

Eddie Ray promotes Peel2Save with Deb Shannon from Just School Wear

SOME of Rugeley's most prominent restaurants and retailers have launched a discounts and offers programme designed to help raise money for charity.

The Peel2Save scheme recently launched in the area and booklets include voucher offers for the likes of the Colliers, Fine Flowers, Don Ryder Autos, Must Indian Restaurant and Rachel Lamey Hair & Beauty.

More than 20 businesses have signed up to the scheme in total and booklets contain £300-worth of savings.

For every £10 booklet sold £5 is donated to a Rugeley-based charity and it is hoped the scheme will raise £10,000 for good causes during the next 12 months.

Customers

Eddie Ray, Peel2Save co-ordinator for Rugeley, said: "Peel2Save is an amazing idea that benefits everybody involved.

"It will raise valuable money for charities and good causes, whoever buys the card gets over 64 money-saving offers and it will help businesses attract more customers – so it's win-win all round."

Any charity, school, sports club, youth club or non-profit organisation which wants to benefit from Peel2Save should email eddie.ray@peel2save.co.uk or call 07970 100705.

Variety night to aid mine disaster plea

A GROUP set up to create a mining memorial in Rugeley is putting on its own fundraiser to aid the Swansea Valley Miners Appeal.

Brain Batey, a committee member of the Lea Hall and Brereton Colleries Memorial Fund Committee, said families still needed help since the mining accident at Gleision Colliery on September 15.

Four miners died in the worst mining accident Wales has seen for generations. Mr Batey said: "It is a cause close to our hearts."

The committee is staging a variety might at the Lea Hall Sports and Social Club in Sandy Lane tomorrow night (Friday) in support of the appeal.

Patron

Tickets are £5 available from the club or on the door on the night.

Mr Batey, of Handsacre, said: "This promises to be a fantastic evening for a worthwhile cause, with many acts appearing."

The appeal was set up by Neath MP Peter Hain with the South Wales branch of the National Union of Mineworkers. The Prince of Wales is the Royal patron.

Following the variety night, the committee will be organising events to raise funds for the Rugeley mining memorial.

Local people willing to get involved in fundraising are still being invited to come forward. The new group is also seeking ideas for what form of memorial should be created in the town and a suitable site for it.

A Facebook site has been created for the project.

When the site and design for the memorial have been agreed on an application will be submitted to Cannock Chase Council for planning permission.

The old Lea Hall Colliery closed in 1990 – 36 years after it had opened.

The history of mining in the area goes back to the 1840s when the first of the collieries in the Brereton area opened. Brereton Colliery shut in 1960.

Taking the lead for play zone bid

A RESCUE centre for abandoned border collies is hoping to build a dog adventure playground at its Rugeley base.

The Border Collie Trust has applied for a £5,000 grant to transform its grounds in Heath Way, Colton. A 15ft mound of earth built around the perimeter of the site 12 years ago to act as a noise buffer has become overgrown with weeds and trees.

Staff want to clean up the grounds and install steps, benches and viewing areas. It has applied to the Pedigree Adoption Drive for the cash after landing a grant for the same amount from the charity last year.

Kennel manager Rachel Corden said: "The area is a mess and we would love to replace it with a space that the dogs could explore, still retaining some of the undergrowth but introducing features for dogs and people to enjoy."

The Trust is the only rescue kennels for border collies and collie-crosses in Great Britain. It houses 30-40 animals at a time.

Funds for Macmillan

MEMBERS of the Rugeley committee for Macmillan Cancer Support have raised more than £900 in less than a month.

The group's town Flag Day raised £525, followed by a £350 boost from a special centenary concert by the Staffordshire WI choir and friends, to mark the founding of the Macmillan charity.

Brewery Arcade Cafe also chipped in and donated £88 from a collection putting the total to £963.

Jobs boost as company relocates to £2.5m site

Van firm's monster move to new base

by TIM SPIERS

cannockchron@expressandstar.co.uk

A NEW £2.5million second-hand van site has launched in Cannock.

Located just off the M6 on Walkmill Lane, the new 5.75 acre site will be Van Monster's hub in the West Midlands for its sales of commercial vehicles.

Van Monster, which is part of the Northgate group, has space for 120 vehicles to be displayed in the new Cannock headquarters. The company's old site in Birmingahm had space for just 70.

Northgate Vehicle Hire will also have premises on the site in the form of 480 sq m of office space.

Gary Sullivan, managing director at Van Monster, said: "The move to Cannock is a fantastic opportunity and we're thrilled to have a bigger space, which allows us to provide the local area with a wide variety of premium used vehicles.

"Due to the accessibility of the Cannock site we expect to see growing demand for the workshop facilities at the Northgate site too, which will open in November."

Revenue

The relocation of the site coincides with an ongoing campaign to work closely with tradespeople who make up the majority of Van Monster customers, including plumbers, electricians and builders.

Shelly Emery, branch manager at Van Monster in Cannock, added: "This will be a new market for Van Monster and Northgate and, aside from an increased revenue opportunity, we are particularly looking forward to bringing further employment to the local community."

Van Monster was established in 2004 offering remarketed vehicles directly to the private market.

The business has since expanded to include eight sites across the UK, with Bridlington, Colchester, Darlington, Leicester, Newmains (near Glasgow), Wakefield and Warrington the other locations.

A section of the A5 near Norton Canes was closed when it flooded due to a burst water pipe

Water off as mains bursts on busy road

THE water supply to up to 300 homes was cut off for an hour after a mains pipe burst, releasing thousands of gallons onto the A5.

The water gushed across the A5 at Norton Canes, blocking the road and causing traffic chaos, after a 40ft split appeared in the pipe over the weekend.

Diversions were put in place as emergency engineers from South Staffordshire Water spent most of Sunday (October 23) at the scene.

The leak occurred just after 10pm on Saturday, blocking the path of motorists travelling on the westbound side of the A5 Watling Street between Cannock and Brownhills.

The carriageway was closed between the Norton Lane and Washbrook Lane junctions until 3pm when repairs were finally completed.

The water company apologised for any incovenience to householders. Supplies to both householders and local businesses were affected.

Resumed

Initially the road was closed in both directions also blocking traffic travelling east into Cannock.

South Staffs Water spokesman Rachel Barber said: "A 300ml pipe burst causing loss of water to between 200 to 300 homes in the Norton Canes area but the supply was resumed within the hour."

The M6 Toll booths nearby were without water for most of the day until the problem was resolved, she added.

Ward split bid dropped

PROPOSALS to split Penkridge between two county council wards have been dropped.

Penkridge ward will lose the parishes of Coppenhall, Dunston and Hatherton to Brewood if the Local Government Boundary Commission for England's final recommendations for Staffordshire County Council are approved.

Group to join with delegates

SEVEN Cannock Soroptimists are joining more than a thousand delegates at what is believed to be the largest conference of women taking place in Britain.

They, together with and Soroptimists from 30 other countries will hear the results of a world-wide survey charting the impact of their campaigns and fundraising.

Soroptimist International was formed almost 90 years ago and has nearly 90,000 members in 124 countries. There are 7,500 members in 258 clubs the UK. The Cannock club has 44 active members,

Eileen Cryer, president of SI Cannock & District says " We know how important it is for women and girls to be afforded the chance to lead and take part in decision making at local, national and international level. "

Among the speakers at the annual conference in Brighton are writer and broadcaster Sandi Toksvig and the founder of the campaign for female education in Africa, Ann Cotton. Cannock Soroptimists will be there at the end of October.

London trip will include a tour of Olympic Park

Sister Act as twin groups join forces

THE meeting on October 10 gave members a mixture of laughs and sadness due to the interesting talk given by Geoff Brookes, a retired ambulance man.

He said a sense of humour was essential for any member of the emergency services. Some incidents had sad results and laughing helped emergency workers to cope. Geoff also told of the time he and his wife met the Queen at a garden party at Buckingham Palace.

The head office of Townswomen's Guild is trying to encourage branches across the UK to 'twin' with each other. Shirley Rudkin is a twin herself and her identical sister, Maureen Sanders, is a member of Willerby branch of TWG in Yorkshire. It seems appropriate that the Hednesford branch should choose Willerby as its twinning partner and the two branches are hoping to organise joint activities sometime in the future.

The trip to the Cotswolds on September 20 was a great success. The next outing will be to the Grand Theatre in February to see Sister Act. The federation lunch is at the Terrace Restaurant today, October 27 and the federation Christmas tea is in Brownhills on November 24. The Christmas 'Festival Feast' meal will be at The Orbital, Bridgtown on December 14.

The next meeting is on November 10 at 2pm at St Peter's Church Hall when the ladies will learn the memories of a pantomime dame.

ETCHING HILL WI

THE speaker for the October meeting was Mr Neil Chadwick, a solicitor specialising in wills, trusts and probate since 1983 and practising in North Staffordshire.

Mr Chadwick gave members some excellent advice that before appointing a solicitor they should get an estimate of how much it will cost for their services, as their charges will vary.

He went on to explain the many good reasons to make a will, not least that if you don't, the rules of intestacy will apply to the distribution of your estate. This could mean that your estate does not go where you want it to. When you make a will, you decide who inherits your estate, including personal belongings, money and property.

Wills can be used to benefit children, grandchildren, other relatives, friends, or organisations (for example charities) and can be used to appoint guardians for your children and executors and trustees to administer your estate.

The new system of Lasting Powers of Attorney (LPA) that came into effect in October 2007 enables you to appoint attorneys to make decisions for you in case you are unable to make decisions for yourself at some point in the future. By deciding on these matters now, you may avoid costly and complicated dealings with the Court of Protection.

Mr Chadwick advised that everyone should give very careful consideration to who they appoint to make these decisions for them. These are usually family or friends who know you well, and who would act in your best interest.

After the speaker reminders were given for upcoming events, including a Christmas meal at Shugborough on December 16 and an overnight stay and day out in London, organised by Staffordshire Federation, including tour of the Olympic Park.

WI member Jackie Littlemore is supporting the Royal British Legion Poppy Appeal. It is Jackie's third year of fundraising for the appeal with her handmade crocheted poppies, and her target is to have crocheted 1,000 poppies in total over the three years.

She can be contacted on 01889 585813.

The next meeting is at 7.45pm on the November 19 at Etching Hill Village Hall when the speaker will be Mr Coley, whose talk is entitled Nostalgic 40s and 50s.

Members will be able to purchase copies of the Etching Hill WI recipe book.

Visit www.wi-etching-hill.org.uk or call retary Chris Stinton on 01889 585505 for more details.

Another busy month for the Lions

IT was yet another busy month for Cannock Lions Club. To start, the club celebrated the birthday of senior member Doris Westwood.

Donations were made to Littleton Nursery and the club paid for a therapy session for a young boy with special needs which has already made a big difference to him.

The club attended the opening of the Lions Shelter at the National Memorial Arboretum at Alrewas which was unveiled by HRH the Countess of Wessex. The Lions Club then held its cream tea on a Sunday afternoon and even the weather couldn't put a dampener on their spirits.

CANNOCK LIONS

It was the club's second Charter Anniversary at the Chase Golf Club, which had a medieval theme and much merriment was had.

Finally, club members cooked and distributed bacon baps at the Street Friend Brunch at Pye Green and helped at the Newlife jewellery sale which is an ongoing project.

Anyone wishing to find out more about Cannock Lions Club should call 0845 833 4967, check out the club's Facebook page or visit the website at http://www.e-clubhouse.org/sites/cannock/

Everyone gets a cough now and again, but if you've had one for over three weeks you should see your doctor. Coughing could be a sign of lung cancer. Sky's the limit for dad in bid to see child again

Andrew's daughter Ashleigh

A CANNOCK father who headed out on a 6,000-mile mission to rescue his abducted son from Thailand is taking part in a fundraising skydive to help a man whose daughter is stuck in the Philippines.

Sean Felton, aged 40, from Norton Canes, travelled to a remote village in Thailand in March 2010 to track down his son Jobe. Mr Felton had met his wife Kim five years earlier while on holiday in Thailand, but when Jobe was three years old she fled Britain with the child.

Sean found his son in a remote village before heading home. Now he has come to the aid of a Newcastle-under-Lyme man who is facing a similar problem and the two are taking part in a charity skydive to raise money for the Staffordshire fundraising charity Abducted Angels.

Andrew Laws has not seen his daughter for five months following a family holiday in the Philippines.

The 41-year-old, a former soldier, claims his Filipino partner is refusing to return to England with their 18-month old daughter Ashleigh.

They had travelled to the country in May to meet Ashleigh's grandparents.

Website

The child's mother said she wanted to stay for an extra week, but she did not return to England and has not responded to repeated efforts to contact her.

The two men will be completing a 10,000ft skydive on Saturday, October 29, in Lincoln which will help pay for Andy to head back to the Philippines in the hope of reclaiming his child.

Sean, who has re-launched his www.abductedangels.org website, said: "I've never done it before, when I was looking for Jobe I'd been through that much hell, I would have jumped out of a plane without a parachute just to get him back."

Tenors in fine voice

POPULAR trio Tenorissimo will be captivating an audience at the Lichfield Garrick tomorrow night (Friday).

Opera favourites, modern classics and English ballads are on the menu for what promises to be a special performance.

The three tenors – Geoffrey Coles, James Fitzgerald and Morgan Lee James – have been a huge success, frequently receiving standing ovations and demands for encores.

A spokesman for the Lichfield Garrick said: "On stage, not only do they sing showstopper after showstopper, they also share with the audience their own infectious warmth, humour and charm."

Tickets for Tenorissimo cost £18 and can be booked by calling 01543 412121.

To book online, visit www.lichfieldgarrick.com

Group's homage to West End hits

LICHFIELD'S award-winning operatic society is pulling out all the stops to make its next production a real blockbuster.

West End Now! features fabulous numbers from shows currently running in London's premier theatre district.

The compliation show includes hits from Blood Brothers, The Lion King, Jersey Boys, Love Never Dies, We Will Rock You and a tribute to Les Miserables in its 25th anniversary year.

Director Martin Rainsford, musical director David Easto and choreographer Jemma Tiso joined long-standing society member Brian Smith in trawling through 37 West End shows, whittling them down to 12 musicals and 45 songs.

Brian said: "My idea was to pay tribute to the West End by showcasing current musicals and giving our audiences a taste so that they might be encouraged to go and see them. Compilation shows also give singers the opportunity to perform solo pieces and some will be performing on their own for the first time. There are more than 20 soloists out of a cast of 50."

Popular Lichfield singer and compere Craig Allen will act as link-man to keep the audiences informed about each of the shows.

Winner

Lichfield Operatic was the winner of a National Operatic and Dramatic Association Award and The Friends of the Lichfield Garrick Award for Best Musical 2010 for Jekyll and Hyde.

West End Now! runs at the Lichfield Garrick from next Tuesday (November 1) to Saturday 5 at 7.30pm, with an added Saturday matinee at 2.30pm.

Visit www.lichfieldgarrick.com or call 01543 412121 to book tickets, which range from £12-16.

Miller classic is the Players' latest offering

HYSTERIA, paranoia and vengeance are rife when a Lichfield acting group take to the stage with their latest production this week.

The Crucible, by the Lichfield Players, is being performed either side of Halloween and is set in colonial America at the turn of the 17th century.

David Stonehouse directs the play which is based on real events and was described by playwright Arthur Miller as "one of the strangest and most awful chapters in human history".

Noose

A group of hysterical young girls claim that others in the puritanical village of Salem, Massachusetts, are sending Satan's spirits to attack them.

Those accused have a stark choice; they can save their lives by confessing to being a witch, or be excommunicated and hanged for denying it. A noose awaits those who will not lie to save themselves, while others realise it is an opportunity to rid themselves of those that stand in the way of what they desire.

The Crucible started its run at the Lichfield Garrick on Tuesday (October 25) and performances take place every day until Saturday, November 5, apart from on Sunday 30 and Monday 31.

Tickets cost £9 for adults, while concession prices are £8 and £6.

To book contact the Lichfield Garrick box office on 01543 412121 or visit www.lichfieldgarrick.com

Fun and laughter at comedy club

LICHFIELD will be full of laughter as Magner's Funhouse and Stroke comedy club line up another bill of top comedy acts

Headlining the evening at the George Hotel on Thursday, November 3, will be award-winning comedian and Guardian magazine columnist Shazia Mirza.

Shazia, who has starred on a string of television and radio shows, will grace the stage with her distinctive set combining a deadpan delivery entwined with her observations of the world.

Her unique but hilarious laconic one-liners really make her stand out from the comedy crowd and never seem to fail in keeping her audiences entertained. Supporting Shazia will be television and radio presenter Stephen Grant, whose anecdotal material, speed and dynamism create a magical energy among the crowd every time, leaving them hanging on his every word.

The relaxed and confident Lou Chawner will also be making a guest appearance with a set bursting with signature gags and joke filled tales.

Dominic Woodward will compere the evening and keep the audience entertained between acts.

Tickets are £12, to book visit www.strokecomedy.com or call 07816 778709.

Doors open at 7.30pm for an 8.15pm start.

Uplifting, enlightening and poignant

REVIEW – An Evening with the Calendar Girls, Prince of Wales Centre, Cannock

IT'S been 13 years since a group of WI members took off their clothes for an alternative calendar.

Done essentially as a fundraising initiative, the women became household names and the move spawned a hit film and stage show, which has toured several countries.

Hundreds of thousands of calendars have been sold and millions of pounds raised for leukaemia and lymphoma research. The women have continued to produce their fundraising calendars, but their sole aim remains – to raise awareness and cash.

The death of John Baker led the women on their incredible and heartwarming journey. His brave widow Angela was among those telling their uplifting and enlightening tales along with Tricia Stewart, Beryl Banforth and Christine Clancy – Prince Charles' favourite.

It was a funny and poignant evening of how the women's lives have been transformed, of the people they have met and the places they have been. But how, overall, their feet have remained firmly on the ground.

The Harmonies, a singing group made up of WI members, performed the musical interlude. And a sum of more than £7,000 was handed in. A raffle prize remains unclaimed – yellow ticket number 418.

Royal applause for couple after marathon effort

THEY may have finished 13 minutes apart on the course but a Cheslyn Hay couple are united in their fundraising exploits for two service charities.

Gina and Mick Willis, of Westbourne Avenue, have raised £900 for their chosen good causes after completing the Chester Marathon.

Gina's two sons, Nick, aged 22 and Andrew, 30, are in the Royal Marines and the Royal Navy respectively and the money Gina and Mick raised will be split between the Royal Marines Charitable Trust Fund and the Royal Marines and Royal Navy Charity (RNRMC).

Gina and Mick Wills, of Cheslyn Hay, who raised £900 from the Chester Marathon

Gina , a police officer, said the Royal Marines Charitable Trust was grateful for their efforts.

"They're really chuffed," she said.

"It was them who highlighted the issue that Help for Heroes gets absolutely shed loads of money compared to other service charities, so we wanted to raise funds for two different ones."

The couple have since been invited to a reception of the RNRMC at the docklands in Portsmouth, where they met the charity's patron, Princess Anne, the Princess Royal.

Guilty

Gina and Mick, who works for food delivery company 3663, are both members of Chase Harriers Running Club.

Gina, aged 57, completed the run in three hours and 53 minutes and came first in the over-55s age category.

Mick trailed her by 13 minutes, but Gina said: "I felt a bit guilty about not waiting for him but I needed to get a qualifying time for the London Marathon.

"He's really enjoyed his running and it's such an achievement for him.

"It was a hilly course, not flat, so I was particularly pleased with my time and hopefully I can race the London Marathon in 2013."

Youths are dispersed

POLICE dispersed a group of 14 youngsters in Hednesford as part of a crackdown on anti-social behaviour.

The initiative follows concerns raised by the community about trouble in the town centre and nearby residential streets.

Over the weekend Cannock police stepped up patrols and dispersed approximately 14 young people, aged between 14 and 16 years, from the area.

They were issued with warnings for their behaviour and asked to leave the area.

They were warned if they returned they could face arrest.

Officers will also be carrying out follow-up visits where necessary.

Variety show for heroes to be headlined by top comic

Singer Faye Bray

A POPULAR television comic, a former X Factor star and a musician from Britain's Got Talent are headlining a charity concert in Cannock in aid of Help for Heroes.

Roy Walker will be fronting Remember the Heroes at The Prince of Wales Centre, along with local singer Faye Bray. The veteran Irish comic is known to most people as the original host of the popular game show Catchphrase, which he fronted between 1986 and 1999. Walker was also a regular on the 1970s ITV stand-up comedy show The Comedians.

He often appears, in pre-recorded form on BBC Radio One's Car Park catchphrase slot on the Chris Moyles Show.

It will also be a hometown gig for X Factor star Faye who has played at the Prince of Wales before, since finding fame on the hit ITV talent show.

The former teacher won praise from all the judges when she reached the final 25 of the series in 2009.

Touring

The show in Cannock will also feature Britain's Got Talent Star organist Jean Martyn.

Originally from Lichfield and a former Cannock school music teacher, she now lives in Brewood.

Also appearing will be Andy Reiss from the touring show Beyond the Barricades. Andy Reiss is a former member of the Stafford Operatic Society.

Derek Bagnall, who organised the event, said: "Remember the Heroes is a Cannock organisation created with the sole purpose of raising money for Help for Heroes, via the medium of professional entertainment.

"The show promises to be a superb evening of entertainment and every penny raised is going to Help for Heroes."

Mr Bagnall wants the show, which takes place on Sunday, November 13, to raise £10,000 for the national charity which helps injured soldiers and their families.

Tickets are £20 and £25 and are available from the box office by calling 01543 504660.

MP grilled by pupils

CANNOCK Chase Conservative MP Aidan Burley took part in a question and answer session with primary school pupils.

Youngsters at Moorhill Primary in Pye Green Road, are also taking part in a local democracy initiative organised by Cannock Chase District Council.

The Year 6 children had just returned from the council offices in Beecroft road when Mr Burley dropped in.

"The most popular question was about the qualifications needed to become an MP," said head teacher Sandra Peck.

"He left the school with the children's songs still going around his head. We think he enjoyed his visit as much as we did."

Zumba fundraisers looking pretty in pink

Dance fanatics in Burntwood are pretty in pink as they complete a zumba class to aid Breast Cancer Research

DANCE fanatics in Burntwood were looking pretty in pink as they completed a charity zumba class in aid of Breast Cancer Research.

Dozens of dancers wore pink T-shirts, sunglasses, tutus and even pants as they enjoyed the Latin-inspired dance craze at the Erasmus Darwin Academy, formerly Chase Terrace Technology College.

Zumba instructor Lucy Hare, who organised the event, said: "October is Breast Cancer Research month and, at the classes I run, the women wanted to do something to raise money for the cause.

"Having had a scare in the past myself, I think it is vital that all women are aware of the dangers of breast cancer."

There will be a second zumba fundraiser at the college on Thursday evening between 8-9pm and all are welcome to take part.

Lucy is also starting a new Monday hour-long Zumba class at the academy in Bridge Cross Road on October 31 at 7pm. She already runs classes on Mondays at 6pm and Thursdays at 8pm.

Zumba, which has taken off in popularity since the 1990s, incorporates elements of hip-hop, salsa, samba, and even Bollywood and belly dancing moves.

A typical zumba class burns between 500 and 1,000 calories. E-mail lucyszumba@yahoo.co.uk for more information.

Witness plea after industrial unit raid

POLICE are appealing for witnesses following a break-in at an industrial unit in Great Wyrley.

The offenders forced a padlock off the gate to Landywood Enterprise Park, then forced open the roller shutter doors to one of the units, belonging to an engineering firm.

They stole keys of a white Iveco pick-up truck and loaded it up with stainless steel items, including flat sheets and hollow box sections.

They also stole the brass parts of a large-scale replica of a baby's dummy and the pin of a large-scale solid brass replica of a hand grenade, both of which had been commissioned work.

It is thought the stainless steel and brass items are worth a total of almost £25,000.

The break-in happened between 7pm on Monday (October 24) and 7.15am the following day.

Anyone with information, or is offered stainless steel and brass at a knock-down price is asked to contact Pc Scott Dean at Staffordshire Police on 0300 123 44 55.

Arrests as lead stolen

TWO boys were arrested after being found with a wheelie bin full of lead in Staffordshire.

Police were called at 11.10am on Monday (October 24) following a report of suspicious activity in Hemlock Way, Heath Hayes.

Officers found the boys aged 12 and 17 with a wheelie bin full of what is believed to be stolen lead.

They were both arrested and taken into custody for questioning.

Anyone who suspects it may have been taken from their property should call police on 0300 123 44 55.

Get in the swing at wartime bash

THE chairman of Cannock Chase council will be stepping back in time to host a 1940s wartime bash next month.

Councillor John Beddows will front the event on Friday November 11, from 7.30pm until 1am, at the Civic Centre balltoom, in Beecroft Road. It will raise funds for the Royal British Legion Poppy Appeal.

Guests will be treated to a wartime dance and sing-a-long with the D-Day Darlings with old-fashioned entertainment also coming from Staffordshire performing arts swing band and members of Ceroc Midlands. Other treats include a wartime quiz, raffle, penny bizarre activities and a 1940s DJ. Councillor Beddows is appealing for raffle prize donations.

Military vehicles and wartime weaponry will be on display and staff will be sporting original uniforms donated by the Staffordshire Regiment Museum.

Tickets are £29, to include a themed buffet. Tables of up to six people are available. To book or donate a raffle prize email katiemcbey@cannockchasedc.gov.uk or call 01543 464270.

The Saturdays on the cover of their latest single My Heart Takes Over and (below) Vanessa White

Saturdays soon to be On Your Radar

IF you haven't picked up on the Saturdays by now, they will be On Your Radar from November 21.

It has been three years since the band first troubled the charts with debut release If This Is Love. Some 11 singles later, they have gone on to become the country's favourite – and most glamorous - girl band and are about to embark on their first arena tour. And the baby of the group, Vanessa White, cannot wait.

The quintet have been busy rehearsing for the 12-date tour, which kicks off in Bournemouth on December 2 and hits the LG Arena, Birmingham on December 8.

"We love touring and performing and we can't wait to get started," the Yeovil-born songstress told The Chronicle. "It's our first arena tour, so it's the big one for us, really. It's all very exciting."

Before that, the band's new single My Heart Takes Over is out on November 13. It will be third track, following Notorious and All Fired Up, from the third studio album, entitled On Your Radar. Previous singles have shown a marked difference from the Saturdays' earlier material. Vanessa, who turns 22 on Sunday (30), said she was looking forward to the release.

"We've had a lot more input than ever before and put a lot of time into it," she said. "So it's a lot more personal to us."

The Saturdays' previous tour spawned a fly-on-the-wall mini-documentary series, The Saturdays: What Goes on Tour. Although there are no concrete plans for a follow-up, Vanessa said talks had taken place over a similar series in America.

Attention

This year's Valentine's Day date at Wolverhampton's Civic Hall also saw young Kyle Orchard present a red rose to each band member. So, what does Vanessa think of all the male attention? Simply: "It's very flattering."

Tour dates finish on December 18 before another new single is released in the New Year ahead of another significant date, the birth of bandmate Una Healy's baby in March, with Vanessa readily admitting they were all "looking forward to being aunties."

From cobbles to panto for ex-Corrie star

HE may have left the Street in 1991, but the Street has never left Chris Quinten.

The actor, now 57, played Brian Tilsley in Corrie for more than a decade before being killed off, stabbed outside a nightclub. Some 20 years on, Chris is still in touch with old castmates Bill Tarmey (Jack Duckworth), Julie Goodyear (Bet Lynch) and Helen Worth (screen wife Gail). And, despite being written out so long ago, Chris still keeps up-to-date with what is happening on the cobbles.

"I got back into it about five years ago, during the time of Tricky Dicky (Richard Hillman)," he said. "I saw the storyline and I just got hooked again."

Chris worked on the soap with the actor Brian Capron, who played the serial killer back in the 80s.

Although the Middlesbrough-born actor may have been away from the screens for such a while, he has become a panto regular — his first one was back in 1980 – and will be gracing the stage at Cannock's Prince of Wales Centre this festive season.

Chris will play Ramsbottom in Snow White, with producer George Crutchley taking the production to the north west towns of Colne and Oswaldtwistle, where Chris will also take on the role.

And it is one he is looking forward to enormously. Chris has appeared in panto in Stafford before and often passes Cannock to visit his sister in Wolverhampton.

Chris Quinten, front, with fellow cast members Keith De'Winter, Ceris Hine, and Lauren Atkins

"It looks such a lovely place and when we came to the theatre for the photocall, the staff were all very nice and I'm really looking forward to it."

Chris, born with the surname Bell back in 1954, changed his name on receiving his equity card as there was an actress with the same name. So why Quinten?

He explained: "I was looking through the phone book for a name, one that there weren't many of. I came across Quentin and just changed it round to Quinten."

However, there could be another following in his footsteps in the near future, six-year-old daughter Sydney. "She loves singing and dancing," Chris told The Chronicle. "And every panto I do, she joins me on the stage."

Chris has another daughter Lexi, with first wife Leeza Gibbons. Chris moved to the States to be with the chat show host, but, although things did not work out,Chris spent four happy years across the pond.

"I had a great time in LA, it's a wonderful place, but I missed my friends and I missed England."

Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs takes place at the Prince of Wales Centre, in Church Street, from December 24 to 31.

Keith De'Winter also stars as Dame Duddles, with Mark Peachey as her son Muddles. Lauren Atkins in Snow White, while the Wicked Queen will be played by Amy Skillman, who has appeared on Britain's Got Talent and Don't Stop Believin'

Tickets are priced at £13.50 or £11.50, with a family ticket at £42. Call the box office on 01543 578762.

Win £50 of vouchers to spend at Wilkinsons

Gladiator Lightning, aka Kim Betts

FORMER Gladiator contestant Lightning will open Lichfield's revamped Wilkinson store next week.

Kim Betts, from Burntwood, will unveil the new-look store in Bore Street on Thursday (November 3).

To celebrate the unveiling, the home and garden retailer is offering one lucky winner the chance to win a star prize of £50 worth of Wilkinsons' vouchers. Ten runners up will also get the chance to win £20 worth of vouchers to spend on fantastic new festive ranges available in store.

The store will be closed on Wednesday and reopen the following day at 9am to reveal an improved layout, new product ranges and a brighter, more modern, shopping experience.

The aisles will be packed with everyday essentials including health and beauty items, cleaning products and homewares, as well as seasonal products such as Christmas decorations, festive snacks and toys for the children.

Invited

A 'tot up the shopping basket' game will also be held on the day, to raise money for Wilkinsons' charity of the year, Age UK. Customers will be invited to guess the value of the basket of products, to be in with a chance to win its contents, which will include Christmas essentials and soft furnishings from the store's extensive homeware range.

Celebrations will continue on Saturday November 5, when the first 50 people through the doors will receive free, delicious cinder toffee and a face painter will be in store to transform young shoppers into a variety of colourful creatures.

To enter, simply answer the following question:

Where is the revamped Wilkinson store in Lichfield store situated?

Send your answers on a postcard, with your name, address and a daytime telephone number to: Wilkinson competition, Cannock & Lichfield Chronicle, 51-53 Queen Street, Wolverhampton, WV1 1ES.

The closing date for entries is Tuesday, November 1. Winners will be picked at random and notified by telephone.

Usual Chronicle rules apply, such as non acceptance of multiple entries or those from outside the circulation area.

Our expert advice on the problems around the home

Q: I moved into a new flat recently and after a week or so of using the shower which is over the bath a couple of times each day, a crack appeared along the top of the back wall of tiles and now some of them are buckling. What should I do?

A: If the tiles are buckling, you'll have to remove them because water from the bath and the shower has got behind them.

Take off any that aren't properly adhered to the bathroom wall and replace them completely, or remove the whole wall of tiles and start from scratch.

To be on the safe side, silicone-seal along the top of all the tiles to stop this from happening again.

Brushing up can only improve your house

A LICK of paint can transform your home's exterior walls, but actually doing the job is not as simple as you might think.

The perfect conditions for decorating the exterior of your home are dry, warm and overcast weather, as high temperatures can cause paint to blister.

Use good quality paint suitable for exterior walls. Look for products with added extras, such as fungicide to inhibit mould growth, and that come with a guarantee.

New rendering and masonry with a chalky feel should be sealed with a stabilising solution first.

Woodwork

Before starting to paint, fill any cracks and holes with exterior filler, clean off any mould and dirt, and use a scraper and sander/sandpaper to remove any flaking paint.

Cover the garden adjoining the house with plastic dustsheets to protect it from paint splashes. You may also want to mask off the gutting and woodwork when painting the walls.

Work across the building from left to right, or right to left, painting a section at a time. Do the top half and then the bottom half, repeating for each section of wall. Don't stop painting in the middle of a section because the joins may show.

Choose a dry but fairly warm day if you want to paint the exterior walls of your home

If you're using a ladder, don't take any risks with your safety.

Start by erecting the ladder correctly – for every 4m you extend it, it should be 1m away from the house, forming a 75-degree angle.

The ladder should also sit on flat, firm and stable ground. Secure the ladder at both the top (to the house) and bottom (to the ground) as you work across the house.

If you have to rest the top of the ladder against a window, fix a piece of wood across the window first to take the weight.

Never lean across when working on a ladder – always move it so you can reach without stretching.

New nursery to host a special Halloween party

THERE'S a new state-of-the-art nursery on the block in Rugeley which is getting set to host a spooky launch party for local families.

Little Graduates, on Powerstation Road, will host the Halloween event this Friday, from 6pm until 7.30pm.

Offering features from fingerprint recognition security systems to a specially designed sleep room, the nursery offers a modern and safe environment for youngsters aged between 0 and five years.

Parents flocked to an open day to check out the premises and places are already filling up fast.

Donna West nursery proprietor said: "It has been fantastic to see parents' reactions to the facilities on offer here. We maybe new but we have years of experience and pride ourselves on the friendly and convenient service we offer for parents in Rugeley and the surrounding areas."

Exciting

The Ofsted registered nursery accepts youngsters from the government funding scheme three to five years and also will take vouchers for the salary sacrifice scheme. One parent said: "It was great to be able to look around the nursery; it's clean, tidy and exciting and I feel happy that my daughter will be well cared for."

Admission to the Halloween event is £5 per child, which includes food. For more information or to book a tour or place on the Halloween open day contact Donna West via e-mail at littlegraduates@live.co.uk or call 01889 802232.

A double boost for resurgent Rugeley

Houses and jobs give a shot in arm

AN ESTATE agent from Rugeley has continued to sing the praises of the town after it was named one of the UK's property hotspots.

Last week the leader of Cannock Chase Council, Councillor George Adamson, hailed the announcement as a double boost for the town following the arrival of 900 jobs at the Amazon distribution centre.

C Residential, UK Midlands Estate Agents of the Year, has had their best year since the house prices fell in 2000 and their director, Angi Cooney, is proud Rugeley is getting recognition.

She said: "It was no surprise to me to hear Rugeley is a hotspot for property.

"Although it is mainly low-level sales that have increased, this will have an effect on the higher end of the market."

Biggest

"Rugeley has a good market for trading. People buy homes, not a house or an investment."

Research by Halifax showed sales in the first half of 2011 were up 30 per cent, the third biggest rise in the country, and last week Councillor Adamson welcomed the news.

He said: "It is a double boost for the region and is a sign that things are hopefully picking up. It shows that there is confidence in the area."

Mrs Cooney added the core values of the town helped boost Rugeley, which has been on the up for years.

She said: "Rugeley has grown and expanded over these past 10 years, and at the heart it is still a working town."

Clyde, who is looking for a new home

Home is sought for 16-week-old puppy

AFTER helping to re-house another dog with the help of The Chronicle, two Rugeley women are seeking a new family for yet another pooch.

Ruth Dewis and Pauline Roberts are on a mission to get Clyde, a shepherd cross rhodesian ridgeback, out of the kennels.

The playful pup is 16 weeks old but will grow to be quite a large dog so needs a family and setting that will be able to accommodate his size and needs.

To find out more about Clyde call Ruth on 07900 090993 or Pauline on 07971 817877.

'Stunning' project gets national award for restoration work

A RESTORATION project at Rugeley quarry has won a prestigious national award. Eighty hectares of high-quality wildlife habitat has been created and restored to dry heathland.

The site, which adjoins the Cannock Chase beauty spot, was described by the judges as "stunning".

Telford-based Cemex UK, which carried out the work, became the first winner of the new Natural England Biodiversity Award

The restored area of the quarry provides habitat for priority species such as nightjar, woodlark, tree pipit, adder and hybrid bilberry.

By 2032, Cemex estimates that it will have created more than 200 hectares of heathland habitat at Rugeley for wildlife to breed.

The judges were impressed that bosses had voluntarily decided not to quarry sand and gravel to the permitted depth to ensure that the new heathland remained dry.

Quality

"The sheer extent of the restored lowland dry heath and the quality of the habitat produced was outstanding," said the judges' report.

The company has also worked closely with local RSPB manager James Baker and volunteers from the Friends of Cannock Chase who joined working parties to clear scrub from an area known as Bevin's Birches.

The award, presented by Natural England chief executive Helen Phillips, was one of 15 entries.

Tricks and treats for youngsters

TRADERS in Rugeley are planning a Halloween extravaganza in the town centre later this month.

This weekend a DJ will be in Brook Square from 10am to 2pm to get people in to the party spirit. Youngsters are being invited to take part in a Trick or Treat treasure hunt from 10.30am.

Ten pictures of ghouls and ghosts will be hidden in shops and children entering the competition will be given a list of 10 questions providing clues as to where to find the spooky pictures.

When the answers are collected the lists can be returned to the stage in Brook Square before a winner is selected at 2pm.

A fancy dress competition will kick off at 12pm, which is open to adults and children. Competitors assemble at Colin Lee Opticians and parade through the town.

The town's traders are being encouraged to decorate their shops to add to the Halloween theme.

MERLIN
BBC1, 8.10pm

Arthur and his brave warriors may be knights of the Round Table, but unlike the protagonists of hit musical Spamalot, they don't dance whenever they're able. Instead, as we see in this episode, they clash with the likes of the formidable Queen Annis. With thousands of lives hanging in the balance, Arthur must find the strength to become the leader his people so desperately need. Bradley James (Arthur) and Colin Morgan (Merlin) are present and correct as usual, while the sublime Lindsay Duncan (these days best known for her work in Doctor Who) guest stars as Annis. The rest of the cast includes heavyweight favourite Anthony Head and Richard Wilson.

THE CUBE
ITV1, 7pm

Without a shadow of a doubt, Phillip Schofield is the most likeable man on telly. If he's not bringing us the news and celebrity gossip of a morning he can often be found consoling the latest crop of contestants beaten by his large Perspex box. The Cube enjoyed phenomenal success in its first three series, stopping along the way to pick up a Bafta Award, as the masses continually tuned in to shout at their televisions each week. Well, now Phillip and his box are back to test the skill and determination of more hopefuls who'll learn the hard way that it's a very different kettle of fish when you're actually in there and attempting to complete the challenge yourself.

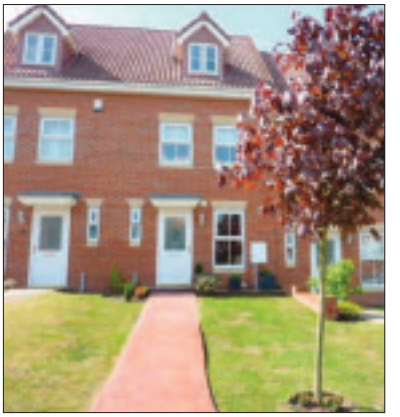
Immaculate three-storey home on the market at £144,950



This three storey home in Rugeley is well-located for school, shops and Cannock Chase

A good-sized lounge includes a feature fireplace with an electric fire

THIS immaculately-presented, three storey home, situated in Rugeley, is on the market with Vision Sales & Lettings.

On the marketfor offers based on £144,950, number 19 Elizabethan Way is in a popular location, close to Cannock Chase, Rugeley town centre and local schools.

An entrance hall with guest clkoakroom opens to a good-sized lounge, with modern fireplace and French doors.

The kitchen has base and wall units, gas hob, electric oven and cooker hood.

En suite

Two double bedrooms and a family bathroom are situated on the first floor, with stairs to the master bedroom and its en suite on the second floor.

To the rear of the property there is an enclosed south facing garden, easy to maintain decking, raised borders, shrubs and bushes, plus gated access to the single detached garage.

The front of the property is laid to lawn with path leading to the front door.

For further details, or to arrange a viewing, contact the estate agent on 01889 574040.

Oriental orange to brighten up the garden

Papery husks around the fruits of Physalis alkekengi, or Chinese lantern, become bright orange as they mature

THE rows of 2in- (5cm) long, bright-orange lanterns hanging down the stems in autumn are unmistakable on this under-rated, under-used perennial.

The papery husks around the fruits of Physalis alkekengi (Chinese lantern) become bright orange as they mature and, when the leaves turn yellow and start to fall, they are simply beautiful.

Lanterns

Perhaps the reason not an awful lot of people grow physalis is that it is a rampant spreader which can become a nuisance if not kept in check.

Its small white flowers in summer are pretty insignificant, but they are more than compensated for by its lanterns in autumn.

These will remain on the plant for a long time, slowly changing to a rustic terracotta shade. You can add the dried lanterns to winter decorations too.

Physalis is easily grown in virtually any soil, in sun or dappled shade, and just needs tidying in late winter or early spring by cutting the old stems down to ground level.

Journalists head for hills in sporty new Astra GTCs

THE UK's oldest surviving car manufacturer Vauxhall chose two Midlands speed hill climb venues to launch its new Astra GTC to the nation's journalists this week.

First in line to host the event was Hagley Car Club at Loton Park, near Shrewsbury, one of the longest tracks in the country.

Drivers were taken up the twisting course by experienced local instructors, who themselves regularly compete at the venue. Each journalist was then given one practice run and one competitive timed run to put the new car through its paces.

MSA Clerk of the Course, Jim Gazey, commented: "We don't really expect any problems, but Vauxhall have brought a couple of extra cars just in case anybody gets too enthusiastic.

"This course is rated as being one of the most demanding tracks in the country and we are sure that the journalists will have a great opportunity to enjoy themselves and also to judge the performance of the cars at first hand."

The second venue for the launch was historic Shelsley Walsh, where original Vauxhalls competed in the early 1900s, and once again the drivers pitted themselves against the clock in the latest company offerings.

The new Astra GTC starts at just over £18,000 rising to over £22,000 depending on specification.

The new DS5 is packed with safety features

The Citroën DS5 includes a new generation Lane Departure Warning System and colour driving information

THE NEW Citroën DS5 has a five-star safety rating in the latest round of Euro NCAP crash tests, along with an impressive 97 per cent score in the Safety Assist category.

The third model in the critically acclaimed DS line, Citroën DS5 boasts dynamic and reassuring road manners, a reinforced body structure and a range of high-performance, protection-enhancing technologies.

Safety features include Electronic Brakeforce Distribution, Emergency Brake Assist, Intelligent Traction Control, an advanced speed-limiter/cruise control system and a cornering light function.

The strong Euro NCAP safety results were achieved through 'Créative Technologie' equipment available exclusively on Citroën DS5, including:

- A new-generation Lane Departure Warning System that 'reads' the road using a camera built into the upper part of the windscreen, which alerts drivers when they drift off line.
- An automatic high-beam function that, using images processed from the same camera, activates and deactivates the high-beam setting in line with lighting conditions and surrounding traffic.

Vision

A colour head-up display that shows key driving information – such as speed, speed-limiter/cruise control and navigation system settings – in the driver's field of vision.

Everyday peace of mind is ensured by innovative services including the Citroën eTouch Emergency & Assistance system, which earned DS5, together with Citroën's other latest models, the Euro NCAP Advanced award. This accolade is given to innovative systems that ensure the highest safety levels, whilst retaining mass market affordability.

The Citroën eTouch system automatically or manually makes emergency or assistance calls, using a built-in SIM card, for precise vehicle localisation and rapid intervention in the event of an accident or if the car has become immobilised.

Linda Jackson, Citroën UK's Managing Director, said: "Attention to safety is paramount in any Citroën model and we're delighted that New DS5 has performed so well in the latest Euro NCAP tests.

"This stunning new car will soon be joining an exciting product line that sets some of the highest standards for safety in their respective classes."

New Citroën DS5 made its European premiere at the Frankfurt Motor Show and goes on sale in the UK early in 2012.

Blue is the colour says Honest John

Super Blue – the fuel efficient Hyundai i10 Blue is exempt from road tax and the London Congestion Charge

THE HYUNDAI i10 Blue is an award-winner – earlier this year it took the Honest John award as the 'Most genuinely economical petrol-engined car'.

The i10 Blue is a recent addition to the popular i10 range and offers customers even greater value for money than ever before.

It emits just 99g/km, so it is exempt from VED and the London Congestion Charge, delivers a combined fuel economy of 67.3mpg and costs from only £9,195.

Dan Harrison, editor of HonestJohn.co.uk, commented: "Nothing gets our users going quite like fuel economy; when consumption in real life fails to live up to the official published figure, they soon let us know about it.

Committed

"So it's good to be able to reward the models which come closest to matching – or improving on the official fuel consumption figure and the Hyundai i10 Blue is one of the best examples of this by genuinely delivering over 60mpg in real-world driving."

Tony Whitehorn, Hyundai Motor UK managing director. said: "Hyundai is committed to researching and developing cleaner, more efficient powertrains to reduce fuel consumption and CO2 emissions. The Blue drive system – which includes an ultra-efficient 1.0-litre petrol engine and Intelligent Stop & Go technology – ensures that the i10 Blue is one of the cheapest cars to buy and run on sale today."

The www.honestjohn.co.uk website was set-up in 2000 to help consumers with advice on buying, selling and running cars. Since then HonestJohn himself has answered more than 600,000 consumer questions.

The Bandit would have scored higher for this reviewer if it had fairings

Made for pleasure

By John Griffiths

IT DIDN'T take long for the Bandit to steal my motorcycling heart: Just a few miles with this latest 1,250cc model from the Suzuki gang was enough.

You ride a big, lazy wave of torque from low revs, in the manner of big capacity touring machines at twice the £7,045 price.

Yet despite its size, the new Bandit is wonderfully agile, ready to be flicked left or right like a dedicated sports bike, more with a thought than any physical effort.

It's quick yet comfortable, a mile-muncher that doesn't leave older riders like me with aching wrists and back after a run to the coast. For many, the new Bandit is all the bike you'll ever need. With a little under 100bhp, the Bandit 1250 isn't the most powerful but it is among the most useable.

With its engine tuned for torque at low revs rather than screaming power, a slight twist of the throttle will see you safety past traffic without the need to change down, and help cut your journey time without risking your licence.

A computer-controlled, secondary throttle valve works in conjunction with the rider's hand on the twist grip, providing a smoother flow of power and torque and reducing the tendency to jerkiness familiar with earlier fuel injection systems.

A small technical point, but in everyday use it enhances the expensive tourer feel of this new Suzuki.

The Bandit has a relatively short wheelbase for a large capacity machine and excellent balance makes it a nimble machine too, easy and fun on twisty roads. It feels much tighter and lighter than many of its rivals.

It's comfortable, too, with no aches or pains in these old bones to report even after 200 miles of A and B roads in the saddle. And it returned a respectable 46mpg, too.

Styling

For these with shorter legs, the new seat can be lowered by some 20mm.

This latest version of the ubiquitous Bandit has a number of changes, mainly styling, to give it an edgier, almost futuristic look now de rigueur among the 'street' or naked bike set.

Most noticeable are the black engine, the reshaped headlamp, new rear lights, improved frame and the instruments: a big digital LCD speedo, clock, fuel and gear indicator alongside the traditional analogue rev counter.

The muffler design is new, too, and the exhaust system includes some new technology to cut CO2 emissions.

The six-speed gear box is particularly slick and positive, and the brakes are smoothly powerful, complementing the bike's performance potential. Oddly, though, an anti-lock braking system is only available on the £7,555 SA version.

I would give this bike a nine out of ten score: it might well have been ten had it not been a naked machine. Popular as they are, I'm not really a fan of unfaired machines – I had a 600 Bandit of my own some years ago and quickly added a small after-market fly screen to deflect the wind pressure.

To be fair, this wasn't a real problem on my seaside trip but then I was blessed with fine weather and no long motorway run where unfaired bikes can be tiring.

With the standard 1250 costing a very reasonable £7,045, I would certainly invest another £510 for the 1250SA, with its screen and bikini fairing. The Bandit has been a top-selling model in the Suzuki range for some years now, and has evolved to more than keep pace with its competitors. This latest model, with its smooth power and nimble handling shouldn't disappoint either tourer or sports bike aficionados. And its value for money price tag will certainly appeal to both.

NOSE TO TAIL LIGHT

Engine: Four cylinder, 1,255cc double overhead cam with fuel injection producing 95.5bhp with six speed gearbox.

It's safety first from Honda for anyone on the roads from cars to cycles

THE MOST important focus throughout the development of the new 2012 Civic was safety – not just for the occupants of the car but other road users, such as pedestrians and cyclists.

"Honda has a high tech crash test facility in Tochigi, Japan.

"There we were able to crash the new Civic into vehicles of different weights and sizes, and at different angles and speeds.

"We wanted to make sure that we are offering the best 'real world' safety for our customers." said Mitsuru Kariya, Civic development leader.

One of the ways that this is achieved in the new Civic is through the Advanced Compatibility Engineering body structure.

Warning

This is a front-mounted polygonal frame that is designed to prevent the cabin becoming deformed by distributing forces away from the passenger compartment.

"Just as important as technology that protects you in a crash is technology that helps you avoid an accident in the first place" said Kariya.

"This is the first time that the CMBS system has been introduced on the Civic in Europe."

Honda's Collision Mitigation Braking System (CMBS) monitors the distance and closing rate between the vehicle and the car directly in front of it.

And it warns the driver when a collision is likely and helping reduce impact when a collision becomes unavoidable.

The technology automatically assists with heavy braking and tightens the seatbelts to reduce loading on the driver during an accident.

The new Civic also features sophisticated pedestrian protection features.

"I am very proud that Honda has a leading reputation for pedestrian safety,"said Julian Warren, senior safety engineer. .

"It's an area in the new Civic that has been constantly worked upon."

Impact

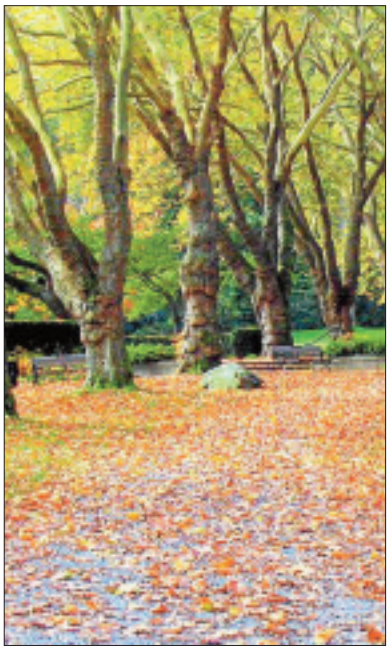
Pedestrian protection features include windscreen wiper pivots designed to break away on impact and energy absorbing front wing mounts.

The last of five films on the development of the new Civic features Honda engineers discussing safety technology.

The video can be viewed at www.youtube.com/hondavideo

The new 2012 Civic was unveiled at the Frankfurt Motor Show in September and order books at Honda dealerships are now open.

Cars will arrive in dealerships during January.



A lovely scene but roads covered with leaves can be dangerous for drivers

Autumn leaves could become your downfall

AUTUMN driving: don't 'leaf' anything to chance, drivers are being warned.

The IAM (Institute of Advanced Motorists) has called for drivers to take extra care in the riskier driving conditions.

IAM Chief Examiner Peter Rodger said: "Autumn may be a beautiful time for a drive out to the country, but it carries its own risks.

"Hitting a patch of wet leaves can be as dangerous as running into standing water, when lower grip can reduce braking and steering.

"Piles of leaves could be obscuring a pot hole and with road surface conditions in a poor state after last winter, this is a distinct possibility."

Tips

The change in the seasons can also take its toll on your car.

Mr Rodger offers some simple tips on maintaining your car during this period:

- Clear out plenum chambers, the tray-like area under the bonnet, below the windscreen, as they can fill up with water when they get blocked with leaves. This water can seep into the car's electrics, causing expensive and potentially dangerous damage
- In cold weather, clear windscreens of condensation or ice before setting off. Always give yourself extra time, to ensure visibility is at an optimum before starting your journey
- Make sure your wiper blades are in good condition. If they squeak as they wipe, they probably need replacing, and always make sure they are turned off before starting the ignition to save the blades and the risk of a blown motor fuse when the first frost hits
- Autumn can also take its toll on car batteries, but some basic maintenance can help to prolong their life.

Keep the top of the battery clean and dry and make sure the terminals are tight and free from corrosion. And ensure that the battery itself is mounted securely in its tray.

If a battery is more than three-years old, check it now; you might save yourself many a frustrating start to a morning

Mr Rodger continued: "This is also a time of greater activity in the animal world; it's mating season for deer, and smaller animals will be on the hunt to gather food for the winter hibernation period.

"If you live in an area where wildlife roam, take extra care, and remember that deer tend to move in groups; if one runs out look for others doing the same and reduce your speed in readiness."

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:
1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with it's Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree.
Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

Author's dedication to beloved Darlo FC

DARLASTON Town are having a torrid time at the moment as they prop up the West Midlands League Premier Division.

But life at the Black Country club has not always been so tough and a new book by long-time fan Neil Chambers details its history. It charts every major event, spanning more than 130 years, and is due to be published on November 7.

Chambers, of Norton Canes, said: "When I started my research I had no idea myself of the history of the club. It was just something that interested me and was a labour of love.

"I have found out that the club has a fantastic history and along the way. I have met some wonderful people who have memories of Darlaston Town FC."

The book which is packed with facts, figures, 100 photographs and stories, looks back to when the club was formed and recounts tales of some footballing legends, all of whom have played a part in the history of "Darlo", including Sir Stanley Matthews, John Charles, Bert Williams and Derek Dougan

The book also features Jack Burkitt, a favourite son of Darlaston. After a two-year spell at Town, Burkitt signed for Nottingham Forest and skippered them at Wembley to their only FA Cup Final win – against Luton Town in 1959.

Pigeons

In the 1940s, as recounted to the author by Jack Burkitt's brother Bill, pigeons were used to relay the scores of Darlaston matches to their father, who ran family pub The Jollier Collier, in Meeting Street, Wednesbury.

The book also includes the story of the proud day Jack brought the FA Cup back to Wednesbury to show his in-laws. What is perhaps remarkable is that Darlaston had four other FA Cup winners who have played for them, as have two England internationals, a Welsh international and an England skipper. For a club of its size and stature no other can boast such impressive credentials, Chambers said. Another fact is that 44 players have played for them and subsequently played in the Football League, with 71 joining Darlo after spells as League players. The book includes a short biography of all of those 115 players.

One game against Villa was abandoned due to crowd trouble, and complaints were made to the FA by opposition clubs when the pitch was deemed a—yard too narrow and the goals an inch too small.

Town even played one game with blue goalposts and blue lines.

The book is not confined to just looking at players. Over the years, the club has been helped by hundreds of committee men and women without it would not exist today. People such as former chairman Frank Stead and club president Sir Alfred Owen, the Rubery Owen industrialist, both spent more than 20 years serving Darlaston Town.

To order a £7.50 copy of The History of Darlaston Town FC, email chambers568@btinternet.com or call the author on 01543 458348.

GREAT WYRLEY BOXING CLUB

MITCHELL HOWIE V CHARLIE BARNFIELD, LUDLOW RACECOURSE, OCTOBER 21

WHEN, as a 14-year-old, severe asthmatic Mitchell Howie walked into Great Wyrley Boxing Club two years ago, he couldn't do more than 30 seconds skipping before sitting down and reaching for his inhaler.

Fast forward two years.

With a lot of hard work behind him and a shed-load of determination, the now 16-year-old Howie made the long walk to the ring at Ludlow racecourse for his first bout against local Ludlow ABC first timer Charlie Barnfield.

Howie made a good start, holding the centre of the ring and pushing a nervous looking Barnfield back behind a good left jab. When he crashed home his heavy right hand it looked like a stoppage could be on the cards, but by the second Barnfield had got over his pre-fight nerves and had started to get his boxing together.

Howie, however had other ideas and began to put his punches together quite spitefully, cancelling out any success that Barnfield had. It was all Howie in the last, punching his opponent, and himself, to a standstill that had even the local crowd on their feet applauding him. A very well deserved unanimous decision to the big hearted Howie and much respect to Barnfield who played his part in a very entertaining bout.

Coach Pete Hickenbottom said: "We're all very proud of Mitch and very aware of what he's achieved given the severity of his asthma. I never thought he'd even spar up the gym let alone represent the club in competition. It's a fantastic achievement on Mitch's part."

MITCHELL ROBERTS V OLIVER SMITH, LAND ROVER SOCIAL CLUB, SOLIHULL,OCTOBER 24

Fresh from its success at Ludlow racecourse on the Friday night, Great Wyrley ABC's fine start to the season continued at the Land Rover Social Club on Sunday night. Fifteen-year-old Mitchell Roberts continues to impress. In his second bout in nine days, he out-boxed Burton ABC's Oliver Smith to take a unanimous decision over three two-minute rounds.

One day Roberts might come up against someone the same height as him as once again he found himself towered over by his opponent, but now Mitchell is starting to make his lack of height work in his favour. He took the first round, making his very accurate jab count and his constant movement had the Burton boxer hitting thin air. Just as the first round came to an end he crashed home a hard right hook, but the bell sounded before he could capitalise on his success.

That punch took a little of the ambition out of Smith and Roberts was able to more or less do as he pleased during the next two rounds, often trapping Smith on the ropes, where his body punching was very impressive, and then moving away before Oliver could reply. Improving Roberts has now won four bouts out of six and these two meet again on November 11 in Burton.

LIAM SIMKISS V KASIM KHAN, LAND ROVER SOCIAL CLUB, SOLIHULL,OCTOBER 24

Liam Simkiss, aged 15, is a big lad for his age, which makes matching him hard. Weighing in at 72kg, he was down to box at the Banks's Stadium two weeks ago only for his opponent to come in overweight.

So it was a pleasant change for him to be in the ring on Sunday night for only his second bout. Facing him was the young man the crowd had all come to see, Battleground ABC's Kasim Khan, whose ring walk was worth the admission fee alone. Simkiss made sure there was to be no happy ending for the local boxer, taking a unanimous decision to silence the partisan crowd.

Khan came out swinging big punches but Simkiss kept his composure and a hard one-two brought blood from Khan's nose.

Khan had run out of ideas by the second as Simkiss kept his punches flowing beautifully and the referee further added to the local man's woes by giving him a public warning for holding.

The crowd were silenced by the third as Simkiss kept the pressure on his tiring opponent who was very glad to hear the final bell as Simkiss went through his repertoire of punches. A well earned win for Simkiss, who now boxes at Bar Sport in Cannock tonight (Thursday).

Aussie rules as new boy Downes the opposition

BOLDMERE ST MICHAELS RESERVES 0
CHASETOWN RESERVES 3

NEW Australian signing Gregory Downes made a fantastic first start for the Scholars Reserves with a headed brace at Trevor Brown Memorable Ground.

Downes has landed at Chasetown in his UK tour in search of soccer experience – and he hopes to stay with the Scholars for at least a season.

Hosts Boldmere should have drawn first blood. They looked certain to go ahead when Leon Weller found Richard Howles unmarked in the six yard area but he somehow fumbled his shot and it trickled into the hands of Dale Faultless.

After 14 minutes, Chasetown created their first threat. David Bridgewater sent in a dangerous cross exposing the flaws in Boldmere's defence but they breathed a sigh of relief that nobody in a red shirt could connect.

The Mikes weren't as fortunate with Bridgwater's next delivery as captain Jack Hulin rose high and nodded back across goal towards Downes. The Aussie made no mistake with his powerful header to put the visitors in front.

Being ahead put the Scholars on the front step. Karl Edwards narrowly missed the target from 25 yards and keeper James Beeson got in a mess as he let a Drew Aiton's attempt trickle beneath his body and out for a corner.

Chasetown's second came on 70 minutes from the best move of the game involving Hulin, Degville-Cross and Bridgwater, whose cross picked out Downes and he made sure with his second thunderous header of the afternoon.

After this, the pattern of the game changed once more as Boldmere forced their way back in. Johaine Thompson, on as a sub for the hosts was looking dangerous and as they attacked again, an Andrew Keighley corner gifted a glimpse of goal to Omorose whose volley hit the post.

Then, out of the blue it was all over with two minutes remaining on the clock. Another Boldmere attack was cleared by Wood to substitute Christian Darby. whose long ball found fellow sub, Craig Deakin, who rounded the afternoon off with a sweet drive into the back of the net. When referee Pete Maton called an end to the proceedings Chasetown had climbed back to the top of the league above Gresley. This weekend the Scholars entertain Banbury.

FOOTBALL REPORTS

CHASETOWN LADIES 0 SHIFNAL HARRIERS 4

Chasetown Ladies fell to a home defeat in a game where the scoreline flattered the visitors.

With captain Sarah Thompson missing through injury, a new-look back four fell behind to a goal inside two minutes and the visitors doubled their lead in the 18th minute after Shifnal broke the offside trap.

Chasetown Ladies responded well and the Harriers keeper was far busier, clearing ahead of Stacey Roberts as she tried to latch onto a Lyndsey Turner header. Turner's follow up was blocked.

After dominating large periods of the first half, on the stroke of half-time, Shifnal extended their lead when Becky Troth misjudged a clearance and the ball was rolled into an empty net despite Amy Farmer,'s attempts to clear off the line.

Within seconds of the restart substitute Dani Wright fired just wide and, with the wind in their favour, Jodie Kinsey tried her luck from distance on more than one occasion.

Against the run of play, Shifnal added a fourth when a corner was only partially cleared. The home side kept pushing and Shifnal rode their luck on more than one occasion.

WOMENS FA CUP 2ND QUALIFYING ROUND – LICHFIELD DIAMONDS LADIES 6 ALSCOTT LADIES 1

Diamonds continued their high-scoring form from as they hit fellow West Midlands premier League side Premier League Alscott for six.

Captain Emma Dagley fired home from close range on 10 minutes after a knock down by veteran Jules Caddick who continues to show the best form of her career.

Next to strike was Sophie Wardle and although Diamonds dominated the half it remained 2-0 at the break.

Starting where they left off the home side were again on top and should have gone further ahead before Alscott pulled one back on the break. The reprieve was short lived as Alison Livermore went clear to calmly round the keeper and tap in on 65. Karen Clough and Kim Hill had made it five and it the 89th minute 16-year-old left back Holly Jackson latched onto a half cleared ball to fire into the top corner from just outside the box to record her first goal in the senior team.

The city side go into the next round with another big pay cheque in the bank, and with thanks to the large crowd that turned out to support them.

WEDNESFIELD U-16 GIRLS 1
CHASETOWN FC U-16 LADIES 3

Chasetown turned on the style to win against their old rivals Wednesfield.

A goal in each half for Beth Woollaston and a first half goal from Elizabeth Jenner, together with an outstanding performance from stand-in goalkeeper and Player of the Match Katie Freeman earned this win. Manager's Player was Holly Turley.

RUGELEY RANGERS FC U-14 3
HAWKINS SPORT FC 0

Rangers claimed top spot in the league thanks to a brace from Chris Alderson and an excellent header from Mat Savic which gave Rangers the win. Man of the Match was Scott Gratton.

STAFFORD RANGERS 0
CHASE ATHLETIC U-14 0

There was no fairytale ending for Chase Athletic's Darren Foster in his final game as under-14s manager.

Foster led Chase to the Lichfield League division two title last season, but has now stepped down because of family commitments. His side have found life a bit tougher at the top level, with just one win from five games. But hosts Stafford Rangers will be just as grateful for the point – it was their first of the season.

Both teams battled hard for a share of the spoils with the Rangers keeper tested more times than Lewis Todd in the Chase goal. Chase Man of the Match was Sam Bradley.

A SUCCESSFUL under-13s boys football team are looking for extra players to strengthen their squad.

Chase Stags play in the Lichfield Recreational League and are looking for new players in all positions from the Cannock and Burntwood areas.

The team plays on Sunday afternoons, with home games at Cannock Park, and trains on Wednesday nights. Call Nicky Willis on 07812101832.

Henry's cracking catch is trout of this world

IT SEEMS fisheries have been bouncing back into form this last week.

Becketts Pool at Coppice Lane pools in Hammerwich is producing weights in excess of 50lb with maggots, soft pellets and JPZ pellets the best baits.

Bridge Pool is also fishing well with mixed bags of carp, skimmers and tench. The new specimen lake is expected to be open by March to coincide with the new cafe opening. Coppice Lane Pools charge £6 per day (£5 juniors /concessions).

Honours

James Horton from Alrewas had the best fish of the week from the carp lake at Fisherwick, his 22lb mirror carp just taking the honours from Shaun Ford who had a 21 lb 6oz fish as part of a six fish haul that also saw his girlfriend Lucy have a 16lber. The other pools are fishing well with bream and tench being caught on the pole with soft hook pellets as bait.

Trout waters continue to fish well and Blithfield

ANGLING by VERNON LEADBETTER, sponsored by Archline Angling

Reservoir produced two cracking rainbows of 5lb 8oz and 5lb 6oz both caught on fry patterns. The rod average was just under five with the bank anglers favouring dry flies and fry patterns and the boat anglers Hoppers and Bibio patterns.

The recent pike fishing weekend run by the Staffordshire predator group failed to produce any of Blithfield's legendary monster pike and quite a few anglers drew a blank.

Henry Hitchman from Calverhall near Whitchurch had a cracking 12lb rainbow trout from Loynton Trout Fishery.

The fish took a zonker lure fished on an intermediate line with a 6lb leader.

E-mail us if you catch anything of interest, and let us know if you want a mention for your fishery. Contact Vernon on 01922 411205, call into the store or email fish@archlineangling.co.uk

A trouble-free run in Channel Islands

RALLYING

RUGELEY'S Martin Payton and Lichfield's Darren Parsons enjoyed a trouble-free run on the latest rally in the duo's successful 2011 season

Driving the MMP/Pae/Ecojet Mitsubishi evo6 they travelled to the Channel Islands to compete in the Paperclix Jersey Rally.

Run on closed public roads over the entire island for two long days, with Rally GB in mind in just over three weeks' time, Payton could not deny that caution was needed and maximum respect of the stages, so a two-day recce was completed a few days before the event to write the pacenotes. The car was faultless all event and arrived at the finish near Trinity in one piece and inside the top 30 among a quartet of local specialists.

Just to finish the event on the first attempt is rare so the duo were delighted to fly away from the island without damage.

The focus now turns to Britain's round of the World Rally Championship during mid-November.

This will be the crews final event of the year before plans on next season will be discussed.

Another Wilcox treble as pressure kept on leaders

BEESTON 1ST XI 3 CANNOCK 1ST XI 1

A BUOYANT Cannock travelled to rivals Beeston on Sunday sitting top of the National League Premier Division after five league games.

Sadly this game brought an end to their unbeaten start to the season as the host's ran out 3-1 winners, with Nick Bandurak scoring the Cannock consolation.

Despite the frustration head coach Andy Mitchell and his players feel, Cannock still sit joint top of the NL Premier League. This weekend Cannock travel to Olton & West Warwick in the 2nd Round of the EH Cup.

CANNOCK 4TH XI 2 STOURPORT 4THS 1

With Cannock 4ths sitting on top of the Ener-G Midland Hockey League Central Premier Division they felt confident that they could chalk up another win against Stourport. Again there were enforced changes with Fergus Forsyth being brought in from the 5ths to play an unfamiliar role on the left of defence.

A short corner was orchestrated by Dave Wigg to create an opening for Josh Ward to flick the ball home for Cannock's first. Then Lewis Round went on a penetrating run, weaving passed four players before driving the ball beyond the Stourport keeper.

Stourport pressure in the D resulted in a back-stick stop on the line. The resulting penalty stroke was saved by Ollie Balcombe. However, Stourport eventually worked an opening to score their goal.

A further Stourport short corner saw captain Darnley deflect a strike inside the left post to keep Cannock in the lead. The Cannock side gathered some composure to run out the clock and take all three points.

Cannock 4ths remain at the top of the league with a home fixture against newly promoted Sutton Coldfield this weekend.

STREETLY 4TH XI 0 CANNOCK 5TH XI 9

On a late afternoon match at Streetly the 5ths went away hoping to continue their fine goalscoring form. In a tight fought first half Cannock only managed two goals converted by Tim Butler and Paul Martin.

Streetly played well and had a number of efforts saved by James Macpherson. The second half was a different affair as Butler first converted a short corner and then completed his hat-trick soon after. Before the end Cannock managed to bag another five converted by Darren Pugh, Martin's second, Tom Bunn, Raff Moscatiello and another by Butler.

This weekend Cannock face their biggest rivals, Cannock 6ths.

CANNOCK 6TH XI 4 LEEK 6TH XI 2

Three games gone and with no points on the board the 6th team needed at least a point against Leek.

But from the start Cannock pushed Leek back with good pressured play which resulted in a scrappy goal for Jonny Machin's first of the season. From then it was all Cannock and Karl Bayliss converted another scrappy goal. There was one more to come in the first half for Don Clark. The second half saw Leek score two goals and for a few minutes it looked as if the last 10 were going to be close but Loz Perry ran the length of the pitch for a great solo goal and three points were in the bag.

CANNOCK BADGERS A VS CANNOCK BADGERS B

Chase Park played host to both Cannock Badgers sides this week, with 32 young Cannock players enjoying three games of hockey in the October sunshine. The Cannock coaches took the opportunity to mix the experienced Badgers players with the not so experienced, with players as young as 10 playing alongside players of 13 and 14 years of age. The result was some highly entertaining, yet competitive hockey, with the winners being Cannock Hockey Club and the young players that took part.

LICHFIELD MENS 1ST XI 3 BOURNVILLE 1

After the defeat to Bath, Lichfield were keen to end a run of four successive defeats against bottom of the league Bournville. It was the newly promoted team that walked away with the three points with a well deserved victory which is sure to boost confidence.

The home team made the breakthrough as Andrew Thackeray opened the scoring at the back post following a well worked short corner routine.

HOCKEY REPORTS

The same routine produced an identical result as Lichfield made it 2-0 shortly before half time. Webb made it 3-0 after whipping in a cross come shot that went in off a Bournville defender.

Lichfield shut up shop and the last 10 minutes fizzled out with Bournville grabbing a last gasp consolation from a short corner.

With Cardiff away next up, Lichfield cannot afford to revel in this victory as they aim to progress up the table.

LICHFIELD MENS 2ND XI 4 STOURPORT 2

Lichfield welcomed their opposition with revenge on their minds after being humbled in a pre-season friendly a month earlier.

Lichfield started at pace and this seemed to take Stourport by surprise. Good work down the left by Andy Parker led to a fine deflected finish with his back to goal by Glenn Humphries.

It should have been 2-0 straight after, but after being put through one on one with the keeper, Parker blazed over. He made up for it in style as he smashed the ball into the top corner.

Lichfield lost their way for the next 15 minutes, allowing their opponents to control the midfield and it was only due to their profligacy in front of goal that the score was only 2-1 at half time.

Some strong words from Neil Billingham led to a much improved start to the second half. Another quick ball from the right and a smart first time sweep to the back post from Will Backhouse to Brougham restored the two goal lead. Yet more pressure from Brougham, as he beat the defence, led to a penalty stroke being awarded after he was brought down when clean through by the keeper. Confidently, he fluffed the ball into the left corner, bamboozling the goalkeeper.

A late consolation for Stourport did nothing to dampen the spirits of the Lichfield side, who now go top of the league ahead of the trip to Telford.

NORTH STAFFS1 LICHFIELD MENS 3RD XI 7

The 3rds are top the league with four wins out four- with another impressive 7-1 victory over North Stafford. Goals came from Sam Greenbank (4), Ben Eastland (2) and Ben Sweeney.

LOUGHBOROUGH TOWN 1 LICHFIELD MENS 4TH XI 4

A great team performance secured a 4-1 victory after going a goal down against Loughborough. Lichfield responded through two penalty corner goals finished off by Tony Wilmot. In the second half Lichfield started to dominate adding a third from another penalty corner this time from David Eastland. Sid Carpenter scored the fourth from close range. Josh Roughly making his debut for the 4ths in goal made a number of good saves.

Jonathon Groves scored a hat-trick with Jamie Wilkinson also on target in a 4-0 for the Mens 8th team at Bromsgrove, while Tim Habart was the 9ths' matchwinner in a 1-0 win over Ashby.

Lawrie Gleeson and Amy Booth scored the goals as the Ladies first team won 2-1 at Kettering.

LICHFIELD LADIES 2ND XI 4 CANNOCK 3RDS 0

Lichfield Ladies kept the pressure on the league leaders in Division 1 notching up another victory, this time against local rivals Cannock. Jo Wilcox scored her third successive hat-trick. Beth Jacobs took the total to four with her first goal in this league.

LICHFIELD LADIES 4TH XI 1 SUTTON COLDFIELD 4THS 5

A strong Sutton Coldfield side stunned Lichfield into a 5-1 defeat in this friendly match. Captain Prue Nickson had levelled the scores.

Lichfield remain unbeaten in all league games since September 2010. Their next game is against Tamworth on November 5.

STAFFORD LADIES 4THS 3 LICHFIELD LADIES 6TH XI 2

Playing Stafford 4ths Lichfield started well with plenty of chances on goal but Stafford scored against the run of play from a penalty corner.

After half time Stafford came out strongly scoring twice more from penalty corners. Lichfield's goals came from Glenda Francis and Hannah Gent. Annabel habart was Player of the Match.

Defeat for Lichfield could be damaging

RUGBY LATEST

RUGELEY 1STS 15 V ST LEONARDS 1STS 33

FIRST team coach Richard Simmons has vowed to stop the rot after Rugeley once again ended the day as losers.

Richard said: "Something fundamental needs to change if Rugeley firsts have any chance of future success.

"Rugeley are a great team of lads but are being shown up at the moment by the 2nds and 3rds and this needs to stop. A reassessment of the situation with the club captain is about to be arranged."

Rugeley managed to stem the onslaught from St Leonards when prop Tom Wilson was able to break away and score under the posts. Then near the end, captain Matt Willscroft was able to sneak a try once again under the posts.

RUGELEY 2NDS 31 WOLVERHAMPTON 22

Rugeley seconds showed great team spirit to come back and win from a half-time deficit against second placed Wolverhampton.

Wolves' strength was in the pack and they used this to good effect in the opening 10 minutes pegging Rugeley back in their own half. Against the run of play a defensive kick was won by Jordan Wood who fed Dan Howe from the Wolverhampton 10 metre to a try in the corner.

Wolverhampton rallied and after Rugeley turned over their own lineout, set up a rolling maul to score the equalising points. This was followed up moments later by a converted try under the posts.

Rugeley began to get themselves into the game and Matthew Keys set up a ruck on the Wolverhampton five-metre line which saw Martin de Ridder pick up and drive over to get Rugeley back in the game.

The roller coaster ride continued and a Wolverhampton try just before half time saw them lead 17-10 at the break.

Rugeley continued to press and an attacking line out saw Matthew Keys feed replacement Josh Heatherington who used his strength to bundle himself over the try line and bring his side back into the match. Matthew Keys kicked the conversion to draw the sides level only to see Wolverhampton's pack drive the ball down the other end of the pitch and put them back into a 22-17 lead. Rugeley were determined not to lose and Martyn Bentley took the ball up the pitch only to be dragged down by Wolverhampton defenders. Man of the Match Daniel Howe was there in support to take the ball on the 10 metre and sprint in under the posts. With the conversion taken Rugeley were back in the lead.

It looked like it was going to be a nervy

Rugeley 2nds v Wolverhampton

last five minutes but a long clearing kicks from Matthew Keys led to a conversion. An injury to veteran flanker Steve Kelly had seen Heatherington take his place in the line.

Heatherington ripped the ball from the Wolverhampton jumper and forced his way over to seal a 31-22 victory. The result sees Rugeley retain their lead at the top of Staffordshire Merit League C South.

LICHFIELD 17 BURTON 22

Lichfield faced up to their old adversary Burton, in a re-run of last season's Staffordshire Cup final, though, the Myrtles were unable to pull off a repeat success.

The home side made the brighter start in front of an expectant crowd at Cooke Fields. Blindside Richard Burton scored the game's opening try, giving Josh Massey the simplest of conversions. The 7-0 lead didn't last long as Burton replied just eight minutes later. The first half, as a contest, was pretty forgettable, but Lichfield were able to extend their lead to five via a Massey penalty.

The excitement of the first 15 seconds of the second half eclipsed all that had come before it. Chris Upton collected the restart at pace, beat a few defenders and scored under the posts to put Lichfield in charge at 17-5 ahead. Gradually though, the away side were able to chip away at the lead.

Following an earlier penalty, Burton got the try they deserved on 58 minutes and, under pressure, Lichfield surrendered their lead of 60 minutes with just 14 left to play. The try itself was dubious, but there was a sense it was always coming and Lichfield fell to a disappointing and potentially damaging defeat.

Lichfield are back in action this weekend at newly promoted Dunlop.

Scholars avenge FA Cup defeat as Perrow hits four

CHASETOWN 5 GRANTHAM TOWN 0
FA CARLSBERG TROPHY FIRST ROUND QUALIFYING

DEAN PERROW fired in four and Kingsley James made a scoring debut as Chasetown swept aside Grantham Town 5-0 in their first FA Carlsberg Trophy tie of the season.

The dominant victory was just what the Scholars fans and officials needed following a lean spell of results, and new boss Chris Brindley could not have wished for a better display on his home debut.

Only three weeks previously, the Scholars had been knocked out of the FA Cup by Grantham, and the Gingerbreads pushed hard again here with Jamie McGhee and Rhys Lewis both finding early chances.

Mark Branch blocked a close range chance from Sam Purcicoe and the ball went wide.

Chasetown took the lead in style in the eighth minute when Levi Reid skilfully avoided two defenders down the centre and played wide to Scholars debutant James and the Port Vale loanee fired a low shot from the right across the keeper Rob Murray and into the far corner of the net.

Five minutes later and the Scholars made it two from the penalty spot after Perrow was brought down by Alistair Asher in the box, Perrow himself stepping up to smash home the spot-kick.

The Scholars found the net again on 28 minutes when a perfectly struck right-footed shot from Perrow evaded Murray and Chasetown began to look ever more dominant.

Three minutes later a cross from the right from Gary Birch found Perrow unmarked and the "Goal Machine" completed his hat-trick with a left-footed shot.

Perrow could have added a fourth on 39 minutes but Martin Ball dispossessed him before he could shoot, while Ryan Price hung onto Rob Norris's shot one minute later.

The second half was also Chasetown all the way. Perrow enjoyed two more chances before he latched onto a Gary Birch through ball on 67 minutes and rounded Murray to fire into the empty net for his fourth and the Scholars' fifth.

By now there was no way back for the Division 1 South men, and the Scholars' revenge was emphatically assured.

Substitute Danny Smith would also go close for the Scholars in the closing stages but dragged his shot wide, while Birch saw a shot blocked by Tom Maddison to round off a supreme Scholars display.

The Scholars visit Marine for a league fixture on Saturday, October 29, kick-off at 3pm before travelling there again a week later (November 5) in the second qualifying round of the FA Trophy.

Hay and Crane prove the heroes for Pitmen

Chris Shaw gets up to win this header for the Pitmen

BEDWORTH UNITED 0 HEDNESFORD TOWN 1 –
FA TROPHY FIRST QUALIFYING ROUND

TWO heroes emerged from Hednesford Town's impressive victory against a much fancied Bedworth United in the form of goal scorer Gary Hay who struck two minutes before the end of the first half, and under-fire goalkeeper Dan Crane, who produced a wonder save in the 92nd minute to deny the home side a replay.

Bedworth had a 100 per cent record on their own patch so, despite the fact they were a league below Rob Smith's team, the tie was a proverbial 'banana skin'.

The match was played on a bowling green of a pitch in warm autumnal sunshine and Darren Campion saw an early header hacked clear from the goalline for the Pitmen. Former Saddlers skipper Ian Roper did superbly well to block Nick Wellecomme as he advanced on goal on 20 minutes and two minutes later Wellecomme should have scored with another opportunity.

HEDNESFORD TOWN

Bedworth looked confident in their own surroundings and Hednesford twice had to desperately clear the ball from the six yard line on 27 and 30 minutes respectively.

Wellecomme completed a hat-trick of missed chances on 41 minutes when a wonderful through ball by Chris Clements laid the ball perfectly for the ex-Stafford Rangers striker, but his relaxed finish found Tom Gutteridge equal to it.

The deadlock was finally broken on 43 minutes when Wellecomme fairly challenged the goalkeeper and Hay made no mistake in lashing the ball into the roof of the net.

Bedworth searched in vain for an equaliser in the opening 20 minutes of a relatively quiet second half before Gutteridge was called upon to beat away a fine shot by Clements after 70 minutes.

Ashley Spencer hit a stinging half volleyed shot straight at Crane with12 minutes to go before the goal scorer Hay saw his header cleared off the line by Kyle Baxter on 80 minutes.

The home side's golden chance came when substitute Matty Brown hit a superb half volley which looked destined to fly into the top right hand corner before an acrobatic jump from Crane, guilty of two glaring errors in the FA Cup, restored his confidence with a game saving block.

The Pitmen face Matlock Town at Keys Park on November 5 in the second qualifying round. The Gladiators sit in eighth place in the Evo-Stik Northern Premier League, some six points behind the Pitmen. Kick off will be at 3pm.

There are further big cup games to be expected throughout November as the Pitmen plan to welcome Walsall to Keys Park on Tuesday November1, kick off 7.45pm in the Birmingham Senior Cup and, should they emerge victorious against Newcastle Town in the Staffs Senior Cup, Tony Pulis' Premier League Stoke City could also come calling.

The Pitmen have completed the transfer of 27-year old midfielder Ben Jevons from neighbours Chasetown. Rob Smith and Larry Chambers met with the player after the formalities of a seven-day notice and were delighted when the player accepted the opportunity to join his former team mate Gary Hay at Keys Park. Striker Danny Quinn has gone out on a month's loan to Evo-Stik Division 1 South team Coalville Town FC.

On Saturday (October 29) at 3pm, the Pitmen face Whitby Town, at Keys Park.

Abrupt end to Vase campaign

NORTON UNITED 4 HEATH HAYES 0

HEATH Hayes saw their FA Vase campaign came to an abrupt end as they were well beaten by Potteries side Norton.

From a Hayes point of view, it was a tired, jaded effort lacking any of the sparkle and commitment of recent performances. They got off to the worst possible start going a goal down after just two minutes. Lee Talbot was allowed far to much time and space on the right and his deep cross was smashed home at the far post by Danny Brown.

The home side now had their tails up and the visitors struggled to put any meaningful passes together. It was no surprise when Brown got a second, reacting quickest to a loose ball in the area. At the start of the second half Hayes rallied and at last began to keep the ball in their opponents' half.

Craig Hancox sent over a fine cross but Dave Waple headed wide of a gaping goal. They were then denied a cast-iron penalty when Wayne Brotherton clearly handled in the box to deny Ben Haseley.

The brief revival was soon ended when Mark McDonald effectively sealed the game with a wonderful strike from 25 yards. Michael Machin got a fourth for Norton to emphasise his sides superiority. With no midweek, so it gives Hayes manager Simon Davies chance to sort out things before Saturday's visit to Loughborough University.

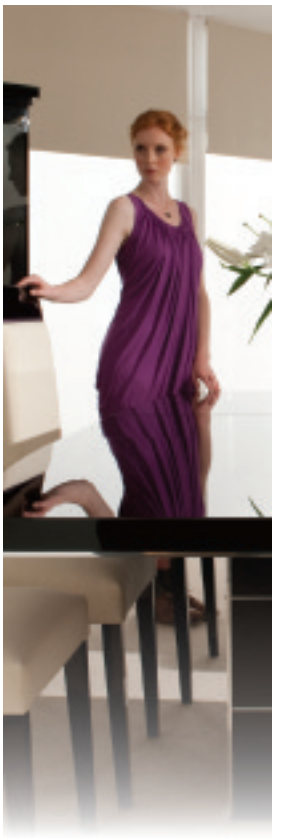
COUSINS' MULTI MILLION POUND CLEARANCE EVENT



A substantial programme of investment, restructuring and expansion means that Cousins Furniture Stores need to clear millions of pounds worth of stock with immediate effect. This Special Clearance Event starts on Friday at 10am, offering a great opportunity to save upto 70% on a massive range of furniture, carpets, beds and homewares.

For 3 Days, this Friday, Saturday & Sunday

The Directors of Cousins have taken advantage of the well documented slump in High Street Sales and also the increasing demands of the online shopper to offer their customers this unprecedented opportunity.

Buy with confidence

As one of the UK's leading and most established family-owned furniture retailers, they are built on very solid financial foundations – owning the freehold to all 5 of their expansive sites. Not only does this give their customers the additional peace of mind and confidence when buying from them but it also gives them enormous purchasing power.

Massive Opportunities

Commenting on the company's plans, Managing Director, John Shotton said: "As a result of our financial strength and stability we have been able to bulk purchase a lot of our suppliers frustrated stock that has become surplus due to the High Street sales slump".

Online Expansion

A substantial investment is also being made to provide a much more comprehensive online shopping experience.

"Our website will soon incorporate the majority of ranges that we display in-store as well as many extra online only collections. We are dramatically expanding the ranges available for immediate and express delivery plus introducing some exciting new product categories that have been requested by our internet shoppers".

Warehouse Restructuring

All of this expansion and range consolidation has created an urgent need for additional warehouse space. There is now a dramatic requirement for significant extra storage capacity plus areas to facilitate an enhanced picking facility along with the additional functions of packing and despatch.

Stock Arriving Daily

This need along with the continuing arrival of enormous amounts of their manufacturers' surplus goods mean that huge quantities of stock will be arriving daily throughout the 3 Day Event. Many never to be repeated one-off bargains are up for grabs and famous brand names such as G Plan, ViSpring, Parker Knoll and Willis & Gambier have been drastically reduced.

Massive Reductions

Doors open this Friday at 10am. Take advantage of huge savings and massive reductions on furniture, carpets, beds and homewares throughout the stores. All price tickets have been reduced to a fraction of the normal price. Whether you live in a one-bed apartment or a sprawling mansion, there is a massive range to choose from for every room in your home whatever your taste.

All Items Must Go

"We need to clear this stock as soon as possible with everything available for immediate delivery. It really is a case of everything must go" said Managing Director, John Shotton. "We are delighted to offer our customers even more choice than ever before. These are some of the biggest savings we have ever offered and fully expect people to take full advantage, especially in light of the current economic climate".

Made to Order

Cousins have even dramatically reduced all made to order items, so you can choose exactly what size or colour suits your home. Their expert team of sales people will be on hand to ensure you make the right decision at the best price.

"We are expecting this to be our busiest event of the year from the minute the doors open. With many one-off bargains and unrepeatable deals it really will be a case of first come first served" said John Shotton, Managing Director.

Don't miss out, this massive multi-million pound clearance event starts this Friday at 10am.
